RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD.

Years ago, when Democracy was in the ascendant and ruling the nation, it was the habit of postmasters thoughout the Southern States to exercise a sort of supervision over the press by abstracting from the public mails and committing to destruction all printed documents which they were pleased to consider seditious and insurrectionary. There was no provision of law authorizing this surveillance, but the local sentiment demanded it in so imperious a way as to enforce compliance. Let it not be inferred from this that the post-masters were unwilling to perform the required service. Such a supposition would be entirely erroneous. They fully shared in the hostility to freedom of the press, and were glad of the immunity they enjoyed in rifling mail bags.

After a time, as the Democracy became more distinctly pledged to stand by the slaveholders in all their exactions, the Post-office Department was induced to promulgate such instructions as seemed to authorize this violation of the sanctity of the mails. Under these instructions nothing that could offend the slave barons, or remind the blacks of their manhood, obtained circulation through this public channel. Steadily the range of proscription was enlarged until every generous sentiment became an offense, and the promulgation of it was carefully smothered. If a cunning artist had desired to transmit a representation of Democracy to posterity he could have hit on a no more apt form that the figure of Suspicion assorting the contents of the mail bags and casting into the fire all documents upon which the odor of Liberty was detected.

With the collapse of the rebellion this function of the Democracy was destroyed. It became so dead as to appear to be beyond the reach of resurrection. As the mail service was re-established the inviolability of the mails was recognized and respected. This was one of the natural results of the war, and it would have been permanent but for the encouragement extended by the President to the rebels, and to the spirit in which the rebellion was conceived and born. Now, proof exists that the practice has been revived. A gentleman at Spring Hill, Tennessee, writes to the Secretary of the National Republican Committee, that "the Johnsonian mail agent has been destroying all Radical papers that pass through his hands on the railroad from Nashville, Tennessee, to Decatur, Alabama. Congressional speeches with Congress franks are thrown out of the mail."

This is neither unexpected nor unnatural. It is one of the legitimate consequences of the President's Policy.

SHORT CROPS.

One of the most marvellous things in modern times is the fact that the people of the United States have not literally starved to death. Regularly every fall and winter there are direful reports of the scarcity of provisions. There is no wheat; no corn; no buckwheat; no rye; no any thing. Prices are advanced as though famine was absolutely impending. Yet no body is famished. There is always enough and to spare. Sometimes it happens that before new crops are gathered there is grain enough left to last a full year. This makes no difference with the croakers. They are so accustomed to lackrymation and groanings they cannot desist. Like hired mourners in oriental countries, it is their vocation to bewail, and they would be miserable if thrown out of that employment. Perhaps they are less to be censured than the multitudes who foolishly accept their dolorous accounts as authentic. It is not easy to get up an actual famine in this country. There is so much of it; such length and breadth; such diversities of soil, climate and production; that a general failure is quite impossible. In spots, here and there, a particular crop may be damaged or measurably fail; but, on the whole, there is always enough, not only to "keep the gaunt wolf" from everybody's door, but to stop even the mouths of croakers and grain speculators, if they had not the cheek of the horse-leech, which continually cries, "Give, give."

THE Independent Republican, published at Montrose, Susquehanna county, advocates the selection of Mr. GALUSHA A. GROW for United States Senator in place of Mr. COWAN. It pays a fine tribute to his consistency and ability. Susquehanna is Mr. GROW's old county; though for the past year he has been residing in Venango. The Corry Evening Journal is for Colonel FORNEY. The Titusville Herald is for CAMERON. The Erie Dispatch prefers a new man; but if the choice is between CAMERON and CURTIN, prefers the latter all the time.

THE election in this State demonstrated to the satisfaction of the President that neither Mr. Cowan nor the Conservatives appointed to office upon his recommendation, had influence with the people. In consequence it seems probable that Mr. Cowan will be discarded, and the Senate relieved from the necessity of passing on the fate of his friends. Democrats are likely to take their places.

A NAME.—The name of the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Ninth district of Ohio was Finefrock. But Mr. Buckland beat Mr. Finefrock 1,287 votes.

Mr. Garfield's majority in the 19th district (formerly Mr. Giddings') is 10,986—probably the heaviest in any contested district in the Union.

THE indications are that Mr. William H. Kemble will be continued as State Treasurer; that George W. Hammersly will be continued as Clerk of the Senate, and A. W. Benedict as Clerk of the House.

IN Michigan all colored persons having less than one-quarter African blood in their veins have been declared by the Supreme Court to be white, and hence are entitled to vote.

MR. DELANO, member of the present Congress for the Knox county district, O., and defeated this fall, has resolved to contest the seat with his competitor.

THE Louisville papers some months ago, indulged in the luxury of enlarged dimensions. Experience has induced them to go back to their former proportions.

CITY ITEMS.

A Local Place of Note.

The time has been, when, if a person desired a first class photograph—one they wished to preserve through the fitful changes of years, they thought it imperatively necessary to visit the Quaker or Empire city, where those who had acquired a high reputation as artists, were only to be found. This necessity if it ever existed as such, has become a matter of the past, since B. L. H. Dabbs has located in our city. This gentleman's pictures not only came fully up to the Eastern standard of excellence, but in many respects exceed in finish and brilliancy of coloring, the best works of Brady. This is no idle boast, as those who have visited Dabbs' exhibition rooms, No. 26 St. Clair street, can conscientiously attest the verity of our statement. For a picture that brings out all the expression of the subject, be it animate or inanimate, and may truthfully be called a likeness, you must go to this establishment.

Even if a person does not wish their pictures taken, we would advise them to visit Dabbs', for no other place in the city affords such facilities for spending a pleasant afternoon, if there can be any pleasure derived from a tour through a gallery, the walls of which are adorned by artistic creations, such as we seldom have the opportunity of seeing.

Pumps, Hydrants, &c.

Now as winter is approaching, parties should make all the changes they purpose making to serve them through the coming cold days. Water pipes in exposed places should be reset, in order to guard against the endless trouble of having supplies cut off by King Frost. For all work of this character we know of no firm more worthy of patronage than that of T. T. Ewen's, Wood street. He is a practical plumber and mechanic, and gives his supervision to all work entrusted to him. Orders from the country promptly attended to, if left at their store, No. 165 Wood street.

At Holtzheimer's popular Continental Dining Rooms, next door to the Postoffice, on Fifth street, a splendid specimen of deer has just been received, and all of our readers who are desirous of obtaining choice cuts should be on hand early. For every delicacy of the season, served up in the cleanest and best style, call at the Continental.

Great Destitution in Northern and Central Alabama.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Accounts from North and Central Alabama report great destitution from the failure of many of the planters who had mortgaged their lands for supplies, but the crops failing, the lands are sold at ruinous rates. Families and homes are broken up under these forced sales. In Green county alone there are more suits on the Circuit Court docket than there are voters in the county. Meetings are being held urging the Legislature to pass laws preventing the sacrifice of property.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH IN WEST VIRGINIA.

LARGE REPUBLICAN GAINS.

Gov. Boreman Re-elected by a Heavy Majority.

CONGRESSMAN HUBBARD RETURNED.

WHEELING, VA., Oct. 26.—The vote polled in West Virginia yesterday for Congressmen and State officers is larger than at any election since the Presidential campaign in 1864. Returns thus far received, as compared with the vote on the Constitutional Amendment, which was carried by 7,000 majority, show Republican gains. Governor Boreman is undoubtedly re-elected by an equal majority. Mr. Hubbard, Republican candidate for Congress from the First district, will be returned by about 1,600 majority. The returns from the Second district indicate the certain election of Mr. Kitchen, Republican. Wheeling city and Ohio county are warmly contested. The Democrats will carry the county by about 200 majority, a Republican gain of 144.

THE FENIAN TRIALS.

Father Lumsden, a Catholic Priest, Tried, Convicted, and Sentenced to be Hanged in December next.

TORONTO, C. W., October 26.—Notwithstanding the wet weather the Court House was again densely crowded, and the interest in the Fenian trials unabated.

The first prisoner placed in the dock this morning was David F. Lumsden, who professes to be a clergyman of the Episcopal Church. M. C. Cameron, an able lawyer, appeared for the prisoner, and asked the postponement of the trial to procure two important witnesses, Rev. Dr. Fuller, of Syracuse, and Bishop Coxe, of Buffalo, the American Consul having undertaken to procure their attendance. Hon. J. H. Cameron, Crown Counsel, replied that ample time had been allowed to procure witnesses, but the Crown would put no technical difficulties in the way, and Saturday week was agreed upon for the trial.

The next prisoner placed in the dock was John McMahon, a Roman Catholic Priest. Defendant's Attorney challenged one juror.

Mr. R. A. Narrison, on behalf of the Crown, then addressed the jury. The indictment contains three counts, charging the prisoner with being an American citizen, and, as such, invading the province intent to levy war. 2d. After entering, continued to act with persons invading the province. 3d. Charges the prisoner with being with persons who levied war in the province.

EVIDENCE FOR THE CROWN.

The first witness, John Ray, of Fort Erie, sworn—Saw Lumsden at Fort Erie on the 1st of June with the Fenians; saw him again with them after the fight at Fort Erie.

The next witness, Alfred Wilcox, sworn—Saw the prisoner at Fort Erie on the 1st of June; he was giving orders about some satchels; saw no arms about him.

Alexander Milligan next testified. He said the prisoner, who had a revolver at his side, was advising Fenians to take care of themselves. Several other witnesses testified to the same effect.

No witnesses being called for the defense, Mr. Cameron then made a long speech for the defense, saying that the prisoner, a Catholic priest, was forcibly compelled to go with the Fenians to give spiritual comfort to the wounded; that as a priest he could not refuse to attend the wounded. He was on his way to Montreal on private business, when the Fenians took him at Buffalo and compelled his attendance.

Hon. J. N. Cameron replied at length, saying that, in law, the fact of the prisoner having in any way aided the raiders made him equally guilty.

The Judge then charged the jury, who, after retiring for nearly an hour, brought in a verdict of "Guilty," and the prisoner was then sentenced to be hanged on the 13th of December next.

The Baltimore Imbroglio.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—At the opening of the investigation this morning the counsel for the Commissioners submitted a paper in which they explained that whilst they had and did still maintain the groundlessness of the charges against the Commissioners, and also do not withdraw their plea against the jurisdiction of the Executive to try the charges nevertheless, as that plea had been overruled and decided against them, they (the Commissioners) deemed it due to justice and to their fellow-citizens, as well as to themselves, that their counsel should return and render such aid as they might be able in the proposed investigation, to cross-examine witnesses produced by the memorialists, &c.

The counsel for the memorialists object to the commissioners counsel coming in now unless they withdrew their objection to the jurisdiction of the Executive.

After considerable argument the matter was arranged by the counsel for the commissioners, changing the language of the document submitted by them so as to read; for that purpose we are present, and not abandoning the benefit of the plea to the jurisdiction, of which we desire to stand on the record to avail, as it may be, on behalf of our clients we plead not guilty to the charge against them.

The Governor then made a statement: He notified the counsel that he would require a prompt decision of the case, that this examination shall be gone through with in the shortest practicable period; that all irrelevant matter shall be thrown aside, and that the prominent leading points of the case shall be stated, and shall be disposed of at the earliest practicable date.

He informed the counsel that he intended to get through with the case by not later than Wednesday of next week, and he notified them that if they had any important evidence to submit, that they have it here promptly; he also announced that as soon as the Executive was satisfied by the evidence that should be presented, that the commissioners were innocent or that they were guilty, he should take action as promptly as he should feel justified in doing, even if that action should be taken in the midst of the proceedings which were going on.

This announcement was regarded by most of those present as an indication that the Governor's decision would be adverse to the Commissioners. The examination of the numerous witnesses present was then commenced, and continued up to three o'clock, when the examination was adjourned until to-morrow morning. The evidence thus far has been mostly against the judges of the election, and charging the Commissioners with partizanship in the discharge of their duties.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON THIRD PAGE.)

Death of Henry Heddrick, who was Shot by the Negro Thomas Smith—Coroners Inquest.

The circumstances attending the shooting of Mr. Henry Heddrick, coronet player of the Pittsburgh Theatre Orchestra, by the negro Thomas Smith, on Tuesday night last, on Fifth street, must be fresh in the memories of our readers. It will be remembered that on the evening mentioned, two negroes named respectively Noad and Thomas Smith, had an altercation in the Theatre, which resulted in blows after the performance was over. Thomas Smith drew a revolver and fired at Noad, missing him, but the ball penetrated the abdomen of the unfortunate deceased who was, just at that moment, coming out of the Theatre. Mr. Heddrick lingered in great agony till yesterday at noon, when he died. Coroner Clawson was notified of his death, and summoning a jury, proceeded to hold an inquest. The following citizens composed the Coroner's Jury:

1. Thos. P. Houston.
2. Guyan M. Irwin.
3. Frank P. Case.
4. Joseph Busha.
5. John Barry.
6. John Karrigan.

Dr. James Kerr, who had attended the deceased during his last illness, was called upon to hold a post mortem examination upon the body. After considerable labor, he succeeded in discovering the ball, not much larger than an ordinary shot, which had lodged loosely against the spine. The following is the testimony of the learned gentlemen:

Dr. James Kerr, sworn—Am practicing physician; held a post mortem examination upon the body of the deceased, Henry Heddrick, on Friday afternoon, Oct. 26th, 1866. Found an opening in the parietes of the abdomen, made by the passage of a ball; on opening the abdomen found the cavity filled with blood, the ball having traversed the stomach, passing through to the spine, on the right of which it was found lying loose. It did not appear to have entered the muscles of the spine, having spent its force in tearing its way through the walls of the abdomen and stomach. It is my opinion that death resulted from internal hemorrhage and incipient gangrene. Am positive that death ensued from the bullet wound described. (Minie bullet shown witness by Coroner.) This is the ball I found in body of deceased.

The inquest was here adjourned to meet again next Monday afternoon, at two o'clock, at the Mayor's office.

The deceased was an estimable citizen and leaves a wife, but no family, to mourn his untimely end. His murderer, Thomas Smith, the colored man who fired the fatal shot, is now in jail, and of course will be tried at the next term of the Criminal Court upon a charge of murder.

Boiler Explosion—One Man Slightly Injured.

Yesterday about seven o'clock, the usually quiet borough of Temperanceville, was thrown into the wildest state of excitement by a terrific explosion, the report of which could be distinctly heard in this city, two miles distant. The cause of the tumult was the explosion of one of the immense boilers in Woods and Co's. Rolling Mill, situated on the south bank of the Ohio river, a short distance from its formation by the Allegheny and Monongahela.

The boiler was one of four, horizontally resting on the same foundation, and was next to the end. It had been repaired last week, a large patch having been put on the top, about the centre, and was, as far as could be ascertained, in good condition. This morning a leak was discovered very close to the patch alluded to, and in consequence of this but a very small amount of steam was being generated in it. The explosion, as above stated, took place a few moments before twelve; the patch, which was about four feet square, being torn off and hurled with great force through the roof of the building, carrying a large part of it away. The mass of iron came in contact with the smoke stack, at a point immediately above the cone of the roof, with such force as to completely demolish the stack. In a moment the interior of the mill was filled with clouds of dust and steam, and the greatest confusion prevailed among the employees. There was only one of them hurt however, the fireman named William Davis, who was standing at the end of the boiler when the accident took place. He was not seriously injured, being able to walk to his home after the affair was all over. Considerable confusion existed among the spectators, until it was ascertained that there was no person injured, after which it subsided and gave place to heartfelt thankfulness, that all had escaped. Woods & Co.'s loss will not amount to more than $1,800, which is fully covered by insurance.

Supreme Court.

Court met at the usual hour yesterday morning. Present a full bench with the exception of Judge Strong. The following business was transacted:

Forsythe & Co. vs. North American Oil Company; C. P. Argued by Shiras for plaintiff in error, and by Woods and McConnell, contra.

Knap vs. Duck Creek Valley Oil Company; C. P., and Dawes vs. the same; C. P., submitted. Woodward for plaintiff in error, and Schoyer, contra.

Allegheny county vs. McClung; C. P. Submitted by Carnahan for plaintiff in error, and Marshall contra.

McGrew & Co., vs Stone; C. P., argued by Acheson and Kuhn, for plaintiff in error, and Woods and Howard, contra.

City Missions.—We are happy to see that there is an earnest effort making to establish Missions in all available parts of this city. Such work is sadly needed in several sections of the two cities. A Mission Sunday School was opened some Sundays since in the basement of St. Peter's church, and already comprises thirteen teachers and one hundred and ninety-seven scholars, the latter, in great part, residing in Pipetown and Hardscrabble. A second Mission School will, we are informed, be commenced to-morrow morning, at nine o'clock, in the Skating Park Building, (Fair Grounds,) Ninth ward. There will also be divine service in the same place at 4 o'clock, P. M. All the people in the vicinity are cordially invited to bring their children to the school and to attend the service.

All in Vain.—Mary Jane Beatty came to the office of Alderman Lynch yesterday and instituted legal proceedings against a certain Maria McCoy for the larceny of a quantity of table linen from the residence of the former, in Church alley. Maria, on being brought before the magistrate, proceeded to defend her case with such oratorical ability as made us regret she had not been born a member of the sterner sex, for her brilliancy as a criminal lawyer would have effectually obscured the lesser lights that now shine in the legal horizon. Notwithstanding her persuasive oratory, she was committed, in default of $500, to answer at the next session of the Criminal Court.

A Woman's Heart in Danger.—An interesting lady, named Hannah Richards, appeared before Mayor McCarthy, yesterday, and lodged an information against William Stewart for surety of the peace. The prosecutrix states that William threatened to "cut her heart out and chop it into mince meat." Unwilling that this tender part of her composition should form any such a compound—no matter how relished it is in this cold weather—and determining that he should find other matter for pie fruit, Hannah had William sent to jail, there to ruminate on his past bad conduct, and lay plans for future reform.

Struck a Woman.—Mary Clay came to the office of Alderman Humbert yesterday, and made oath against Simon Tillison for assault and battery. The prosecutrix alleges that Tillison struck her in the breast without just cause or provocation, and injured her so severely that she was forced to remain in bed for two days. This of course proved that even clay is susceptible of feeling, and that the wretch who would thus strike a female clay should receive the dire retribution of the law. Simon was arrested and made to give bail for his appearance at Court.

New Cars on the Connellsville Railroad.—In order to better accommodate the traveling community and to meet the increasing demands of business men, the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company have placed upon the branch from Uniontown to Connellsville, two new, beautiful and comfortable cars. The public will now have much greater facilities than heretofore on this road, and will duly appreciate the efforts of the officers to meet the wants of the community.

Dedication.—The Methodist Episcopal Church at Prospect, Butler county, has been completed and will be dedicated to the worship of Almighty God, on the first Sabbath of November. The pastor, Rev. A. F. Ward, will be assisted in the service by Rev. S. Crouse and Dr. I. C. Pershing. Services will begin on Saturday at two o'clock P. M., and will be continued over the Sabbath.

Personal.—Miss Cecile Rush, who turned the heads of the Theatre-going "nubbites" at the commencement of the season, passed through our city yesterday, en route to fill an engagement of three weeks at the Olympic, New York. We understand that Manager Hess has engaged this accomplished lady, and that she will appear in the early part of '67.

Hearing Had.—William Donney, charged with having committed an outrage on the person of a little girl named Elizabeth Featherington, in West Pittsburgh, a few days since, had a hearing before Justice Sprung, yesterday, which resulted in his being committed to jail for trial at the December term of the Criminal Court.

We are indebted to W. A. Gildenfenny, 45 Fifth street, for a copy of "All in the Dark," a novel, by J. Sheridan Le Fanu. New York: Harper & Brothers.

Also to the Publisher, for Frank Leslie's Lady's Magazine for November.

Notice.—Persons having business with S. P. Ross, Esq., can find him at the St. Charles Hotel, where he resides and has resided for a year past, or at his law office, No 103 Fifth street, Pittsburgh.

ANOTHER HOMICIDE TRIAL

THE HATFIELD SHOOTING CASE.

Trial of Henry Brahe for the Killing of Henry Helligan.

VERDICT NOT GUILTY.

No sooner had our courts of justice disposed of one case of homicide than their attention became occupied with another. On Thursday evening Charles B. Stein was convicted of the wilful killing of David Roberts, and on Friday morning Henry Brahe was arraigned for the shooting of Henry Helligan at Hatfield.

The circumstances of this case, as detailed at the time are doubtless well remembered by our readers. The defendant and the man he shot were, as we are told, bosom friends; and on the night of Saturday, the 28th of last July, they were together until a late hour, "having a good time." While passing through the little village of Hatfield, their home, they had a rencontre with another party of young men, and in the course of the quarrel both Brahe and Helligan received rough usage at the hands of the other party, and both became very much exasperated. The mysterious connection between this street quarrel and the horrible outrage committed on the same night and at the same place on the person of Fanny Smith, is well remembered by all our readers, the circumstances having been fully detailed at the trial of the case recently. After the disturbance the young men visited the house of Mr. David Holmes, of Collins township, to call upon Mary Hemminger and Louisa Taylor, two young ladies who lived there. Both the men were under the influence of liquor and were excited by the circumstances of the quarrel in the street. The girls persuaded them to stay all night and they did so, one sleeping in the parlor, and the other in the kitchen. The next morning Brahe and Helligan visited the garret and began playing with an old musket there. Brahe, supposing the gun to be empty, playfully pointed it at Helligan and pulled the trigger; the gun went off and Helligan was killed.

Yesterday the case for the Commonwealth was conducted by Hon. L. B. Duff, District Attorney. The defense was conducted by W. C. Moreland, Esq. After the usual preliminaries the examination of witnesses was begun.

Mrs. Catherine Helligan, sworn—Live at Hatfield, Second ward of Lawrenceville; Henry Helligan, the deceased, was my son; he died on the 29th of July; he was shot at the house of David Holmes.

Mary Hemminger, sworn—Knew Henry Helligan; saw him a few moments after he was hurt. The night before I was up stairs in bed at Mrs. Holmes' house; some one came up and told me that Henry Brahe had the toothache; found them both down stairs. Next morning Louisa Taylor commenced to get the breakfast and I went out to milk the cows. Helligan and Brahe had staid all night and started through the house for fun. Louisa came out to me a little after this and told me that Brahe had shot Helligan. I ran from the barn yard up stairs and Helligan was lying there with the blood running from his head. Brahe was holding his head and saying: "I've shot my friend and my brother." I ran down and told Mrs. Helligan, and the deceased was carried home. Mrs. Holmes' house is in Collins township.

Cross-examined—Had been acquainted with the deceased and the defendant nearly a year; they used to come to the house together and always seemed to be friends; they had been there on the Wednesday evening before the accident, which occurred on Sabbath morning; they used to come to the house to visit Miss Taylor and myself; they seemed to be very intimate; they came to the house together on Saturday evening, between nine and ten o'clock; the accident occurred between six and seven o'clock the next morning; when I came down stairs in the evening, Brahe was standing in the room all over blood; he had been stabbed under the chin; he seemed a little tight; Helligan went out for some sticking plaster for Brahe's chin; he came back with the sticking plaster, but before he got back, I had found sticking plaster and put it on Brahe's chin; Brahe laid down on the floor, and we gave Helligan a blanket for the kitchen, and then Louisa and I went to bed; in the morning when I came down stairs, it was about six o'clock, and I awoke the boys up; they were just where we had left them the night before, one in the parlor and one in the kitchen; they went about together, and seemed as full of fun as ever; they were in the lower part of the house when I went out; they never were through the house before on any of their visits; I had been in the barnyard only a short time—just long enough to milk one cow—when Louisa called me; when I went up to the garret, I found Helligan lying in the hall a short distance from the stairway; Brahe was holding Helligan's head and seemed frantic; he wanted to shoot himself, so as not to live after his friend; Helligan was shot in the head, in the left side; he was dying when I saw him; he died at ten o'clock that morning, at his mother's house; Brahe remained with him until he was removed to his mother's house and accompanied him there; don't know whom the gun belonged to; the boys who lived at the house got the gun; I think it was the week before the accident; don't know whether the boys came down the stairs before the accident; don't know certainly how Brahe got the cut on his chin, but Helligan told me that they had a fight on the street and Brahe had been beaten.

Louisa Taylor, sworn.—On Saturday evening Brahe and Helligan came to our house, after nine o clock; Brahe had his face tied up and said he had the tooth-ache. Helligan went out to the barber's to get some sticking plaster for Brahe. Brahe fell asleep on the floor while he was gone; Helligan came back and still seemed in a great rage, saying that he must be revenged on whoever had hurt Brahe. He would spill the last drop of his blood for Brahe; he was going out to hunt those who had hurt Brahe. We persuaded him to stay, and in the morning we woke them up, and they went up stairs as Mary has said. Soon I heard the report of the gun and heard Brahe halloe; ran up stairs and found them as Mary has testified. Brahe wanted to kill himself. He said that they found the old musket there and went to playing with it, supposing that there was nothing in it. One of them found a box of caps and put one of the caps on the gun to snap it out of the window, but did not for fear of frightening Mary and me. Helligan then started down stairs, and Brahe laughed and said that if he went down he would shoot him; Helligan kept on and Brahe pointed the gun at him and pulled the trigger to snap the cap. The gun exploded and almost knocked Brahe himself over; it was loaded so heavy, and he was so unprepared for it to be loaded at all.

George Berger, sworn.—Brahe and Helligan came to the house on Saturday night, a little tight—Brahe with his face tied up. They staid all night; but Mary told me when I asked her if those boys staid all night, "that they went home late last night." I heard the boys talking with the girls in the nursery before I went down. Afterwards one of the girls told me to go to Mrs. Helligan's, for Henry was sick, for Brahe had shot him. Brahe called me up stairs, saying he had shot poor Helligan. I borrowed the gun, and Kuntz and I loaded it with powder and shot. Don't know whether any one else touched the gun or not. We did not put a cap on the gun. I did not hear the report of the gun for I was upon the hill after the cows.

Albert Kountz, sworn—Live at Mr. Holmes; on Saturday night Berger and I sat with the girls when Brahe and Helligan came in; the girls told us to go to bed and we went up stairs and left them; next morning I heard the boys in the nursery and when I went down I asked Mary if those boys went home the night before; she said yes, they did; at breakfast time I was going home to my breakfast when Berger called to me that Brahe had shot Helligan.

Wm. Clawson, sworn—Am Coroner of the county; held an inquest on the body of Henry Helligan on the morning of July 30th; Dr. Robinson examined the body; there was a gunshot wound in the head.

Jas. C. Purdy, sworn—Am a reporter on the Gazette; on the morning of Sunday, July 29th, Henry Brahe came in with me to the Mayor's office; I learned at the Mayor's office that a shooting had occurred in Collins township, I went immediately to the house of Mrs. Helligan, where I found young Brahe; a friend of Brahe's asked me if I were coming back to the city, saying that if I were not an officer Brahe would come in with me and deliver himself up to the Mayor; Brahe said he did not wish to be arrested by an officer, but if he could find any one to show him the way to the Mayor's office he would come in; I told him I would go with him to the Mayor's office, and on that he came in with me and delivered himself up voluntarily to the Mayor.

This closed the testimony for the Commonwealth, and opened their side of the case. The first witness called was

A. D. Anderson—Am well acquainted with the defendant and have had him in my employ. He bears a good character and was a bosom friend of the deceased.

Mr. Duff, sworn—Am a brother of the District Attorney. Know the defendant. He has a good character and has never been known to do anything violent. He and the deceased were intimate friends.

Robert Carr, sworn—Have known defendant ever since he was a child. He has a good character for peace and quietness. He and the deceased were intimate friends.

This closed the testimony and the court and jury were ably addressed in succession by Mr. Moreland for the defense and the District Attorney for the Commonwealth.

The addresses of counsel were followed by the charge of the court. The prisoner was indicted on two counts, one for voluntary and the other for involuntary homicide. The Commonwealth had waived the consideration of the first count, and the only consideration for the jury was whether the shooting resulted from any unlawful act on the part of the defendant. If it had been proved that he had pointed the gun at his friend without knowing whether it was loaded or not, in doing so he had committed an unlawful act. The fact of his having done so, however, had not been clearly proved.

At the conclusion of the charge the jury retired, and after an absence of about two hours returned a verdict of not guilty. The prisoner was dismissed from custody and went home, certainly to abstain, hereafter, from the careless use of fire arms which has already wrought so much terrible misery in this as in other cases.

Criminal Court.

Court opened at nine o'clock yesterday morning, Judges Sterrett, Mellon and Brown occupying the bench.

The jury in the case of Robert Fowler, tried for burglary and assault and battery with intent to commit a rape on the person of Jane Young, returned a verdict of not guilty. This case was very ably argued for the defense by Hon. J. M. Kirkpatrick and John C. McCarthy, Esq.

The next case was that of Sarah Madden, indicted, on oath of Thomas Mullen, for selling liquor without license. A verdict of guilty was returned, and the defendant was ordered to pay a fine of $10 and the costs of the prosecution.

Thomas Mullen was placed on trial for surety of the peace, on oath of Sarah Madden. He was acquitted, and the prosecutrix ordered to pay the costs.

Patrick O'Day was brought up on three charges of selling liquor without license. He pleaded nolle contendre, and was ordered to pay a fine of $25 on each charge and the costs of the prosecution.

Fritz Hasler, who was tried on the 14th of June last for the larceny of a small sack, was granted a new trial. Yesterday the case came up, and it was proved that the defendant took the sack to protect himself from the rain. He was accordingly acquitted.

Albert, alias Alma Leyyston, was called. He had been indicted for arson, in setting fire to the stable of Gotlieb Starz, in the Ninth ward, on the night of May 2d, 1863. By the burning of the stable the dwelling belonging to James McCune was also burned. It was shown that the building of Mr. McCune had not been rented or occupied as a dwelling for some time previous to the fire, on account of unhealthiness from water in the cellar. Also that the information had not been made within two years of the burning, and therefore it was decided that the indictment would not lay. The prisoner was accordingly discharged.

Margaret Smith was placed on trial for the larceny of bucket of coal on the 26th of April. A verdict of not guilty was returned.

The next case was that of Joseph Cession, tried for embezzlement. The defendant was employed by Messrs. J. C. Buffum & Co., and some time since, in the of his employers, collected from A. C. Kalb, the sum of $12.50, which, as was alleged, he failed to pay over to the firm. A verdict of not guilty was returned and the prisoner discharged.

Jacob Welch, and Moses and Abraham McMichaels, were placed on trial for riot, on oath of Catherine Lawrence. It appears that the riot complained of consisted solely of loud talking and much noise. The prisoners were acquitted, and the prosecutrix ordered to pay the costs.

John Dixon, a colored man, was placed on trial for gambling, the prosecuting witness being Edward Scott, another negro. It seems that the prosecutor visited the defendant and played a game of cards with him, staking a suit of clothes on the result. The prosecutor lost the game and the clothes, and therefore brought this action as stated, for gambling. The jury found the prisoner not guilty, and the costs were divided between the parties.

The next case was that of Catherine Dangerfield, tried for adultery. The defendant was acquitted and each party ordered to pay half the costs.

James Leonard was placed on trial on a charge of burglary. On the night of August 9th the defendant, in company with one Wm. Oliver, went to the house of Edward McDermott, on Water street, in the First ward of this city, and endeavored to enter it burglariously through a second story window. Oliver climbed upon the shoulders of Leonard and reached the window of Mrs. McDermott's sleeping room. Mrs. McDermott opened the window and thrust Oliver back. They left, but immediately came back and made another attempt. Mrs. McDermott screamed, and a neighbor, Mr. Wm. Pollock, came to her assistance. The assailants retreated, but commenced throwing stones at the house. Leonard was arrested but Oliver escaped. He was subsequently arrested by two night watchmen, from whom he adroitly escaped. He is still at large and Leonard alone was placed on trial. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and the prisoner was discharged.

James Leonard, the defendant in the former case, was called up for sentence on a charge of malicious mischief, of which he had previously been convicted. In view of the fact, however, that he had already been in jail three months, and has a widowed mother dependant on him, sentence was deferred, and he was released on his own recognizance to refrain from drinking and his previous ill conduct.

This case was the last on the docket, and concluded the business of the Court for the present term. Accordingly the jury was discharged, with the thanks of the Court, and the body adjourned until the first Monday in November.

Sabbath School Institute.

Permit me, Messrs. Editors, to make a short appeal through your valuable paper to Sabbath teachers in the county of Allegheny. Fellow workers, you will remember that nearly three years ago an effort was made by a few earnest men to establish a county organization. A meeting of teachers and friends of Sabbath Schools convened in one of the city churches, pleasant, we thought, and profitable. An organization was effected; officers chosen; an executive committee appointed, who were directed to appoint district secretaries in every ward and borough throughout the county, make thorough visitation of the schools within their bounds, and be prepared to report statistics at the fall convention, to be held on the second Tuesday of November, 1864. Two years have elapsed, and we have had neither convention nor report from the Executive Committee. Another attempt is being made. It rests with you whether it too shall be a failure.

A Teachers' Institute, under the direction of Mr. R. G. Pardee, of New York, has been called to meet on Tuesday evening next in the Second Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh. The few who have taken the responsibility of calling this Convention need your assistance, and must have it. The cause demands your presence and participation in that meeting. Other counties in the State are moving. Institutes similar to the one to be held next Tuesday have been held in Lawrence and Erie. A stirring appeal comes to us from the Erie Convention to unite with them in forming a Western Pennsylvania Sunday School Teachers' Union. They see the glorious fruits of earnest organized effort in the western counties of the State of New York, and they call upon us to help them inaugurate similar work in this State. Do we not need it? Let me give you the results of a few months summer visitation made three years since in Allegheny county outside of the cities of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity.

"Whole number of children in the country districts between the ages of 5 and 20 years, 25,228; No. of Sabbath schools, 133; average attendance of scholars, 7072; No. of children wholly outside of Sabath schools, 16,191; number usually out every Sabbath, 19,157." Would statistics from the city present a more favorable appearance? Nay, but worse. Need I add anything to such an array of figures? The call for the Institute will be found in another column. Mr. Pardee needs no introduction to Sunday School workers, a veteran in the service, earnest, eloquent, practical, we cannot fail to learn much of him, and be aroused to new enthusiasm for the great work. Let no one stay away.

A TEACHER.

The Case of Captain Criswell.

Our readers will remember that some time ago we published with some strictures an extract from the Canton Republican of Ohio, in relation to the mysterious disappearance of Captain Criswell. The Republican spoke in rather harsh terms of our police and the proprietors of the St. Charles Hotel. It now makes the amende honorable as follows:

Several weeks since we published a statement of the circumstances attending the disappearance of Captain J. E. Criswell, of Mapleton, at Pittsburgh, about October 13th. In compliance with the wish of friends who had been there to investigate the matter, we stated, what they believed to be true, that neither the proprietor of the St. Charles nor the police of Pittsburgh manifested sufficient interest in ferreting out the mystery, hoping thereby to stimulate said parties to make such exertions as the case merited in the opinion of those interested. The Pittsburgh Gazette was somewhat severe in its strictures upon our article, and stated that Captain Criswell was living, but had disappeared, and wilfully covered up all traces of his whereabouts in a fit of temporary insanity. The Gazette was correct. Following is a note from Mr. J. H. Criswell, father of Captain Criswell.

CANTON, O., October 23, 1866.

Editors Republican:—In the statement published by you of my son's disappearance, the paragraph which intimates that there was negligence on the part of the proprietor of the St. Charles hotel, and of the Pittsburgh police, does injustice, and is hereby retracted. On the contrary, those parties, when the case was brought properly to their attention, manifested the utmost solicitude in my behalf, did all that could be required of them, and, for the same, both Mr. Shirls and the police will ever be held in grateful remembrance.

J. H. CRISWELL.

Captain Criswell was wounded in the head at Gettysburgh. Some have thought that his strangly erratic course might be traced to that hurt. He is living out west some where and regrets the act—the only event of his life which casts the least suspicion upon the soundness of his head or heart. It is already forgotten. We did hope to see him return home and live in peace, but it is understood that he has determined to settle in some Western State.

Stolen.—Nathaniel Allkins, residing in the Ninth ward, had a valuable overcoat stolen from his house a few nights ago. This morning he appeared before Mayor McCarthy and lodged an information against Walter Connolly, charging him with the theft. Connolly was arrested and committed to jail, in default of bail, for a further hearing on Friday next.

Larceny.—An individual named Daniel Croney appeared before Mayor McCarthy yesterday and charged Jerry Murphy with stealing from him the sum of eighteen dollars. The parties board at the same home, in the First ward. The accused was committed for trial.

A Domestic Romance.

A new illustration of the old fact that truth is stranger than fiction has recently been developed in our own city. A celebrated and truthful artist once said to us, "If I could, by any possibility, succeed in transferring to canvass a perfect reproduction of the gorgeous colors that make an October wood so splendid, my picture would be condemned as an exageration, and I would be sharply criticised as one who was not controlled even by the farthest limits of possibility." That is true, and so of this little story, and of many other little stories that are constantly being told in every day life. If some bold romancer would weave it into a magazine article, ten to one his article would be rejected on the grounds of its extreme improbability!

About fifteen years ago a saddler, whom we will call Smith, lived with his family in the First ward of this city. By thrift and industry he had succeeded in laying by some money—sufficient to buy a small home in the West. Accordingly, the husband and father took his money in good solid cash and set out for Ohio, leaving his wife and children behind to wait till he had made his selection and sent for them to come to him.

The family waited for tidings, but none came. They wrote repeatedly and made many inquiries, but no trace of the missing man could be obtained. At last they gave up all hope of ever hearing of him again, and counted him dead. There could be no doubt that the unfortunate traveller had been murdered for the money he carried with him. Suspicion even fixed upon a resident of the city who had been in the same section of the country with the supposed deceased. Meantime the family were poor, and had to live as they could. The wife of the absentee—the bereaved widow—opened a boarding-house, and so earned an honest livelihood for herself and family. Two of the daughters married, and one of them—Ruth—was left a widow, and returned to live with her mother.

Recently a young man from Baltimore came to board with Mrs. Smith. He was a saddler and had found employment in the city. A few days ago, at the table, he inquired of Mrs. Smith if she had any relatives in Baltimore. She had none. He had learned his trade, he said, with a Robert Smith in that city, who was a saddler and had come to Baltimore twelve or fourteen years ago. He proceeded to describe his former "boss," and he described the supposed dead man. The accuracy of the description, the similarity of the name and occupation raised great speculation. At last the widowed daughter, Ruth, obtained the address of the Baltimore saddler and started to visit him and at once recognized him as the father who had disappeared so many years ago. She accosted him and at once made herself known to him. He was taken aback, and in his confusion received his daughter as his daughter should be received, acknowledging his relationship and confessing his great fault in leaving those belonging to him to struggle through so many years unaided by him.

He had lost all his money in Ohio, and was then ashamed to come home. He earned more, but he had then been absent so long that he determined to return no more. He kept his resolution, and keeps it yet. He sent home presents and affectionate messages to one and all, but would not return to them.

Our Retail Trade.

A few short years ago and we had not a retail house of sufficient magnitude to command even a cursory glance from the most observant visitor to our smoke-begrimmed city. Small ill-ventilated insignificant store-rooms, the cobwebs hanging like faded drapery from the shelves and ceiling, were not well calculated to impress the stranger favorably with the importance of our retail trade. Within a short time back, however, there has been a desire manifested by our retail jobbers to show to transient residents here that our trade in that particular line is as extensive as that of any other city of corresponding population in the country. Among the most noticeable of these houses which have risen to importance within the time specified, is the mammoth auction house of Thos. A. McClelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, under Masonic Hall. This is, without question, the largest retail boot, shoe, and dry-goods establishment in Western Pennsylvania; and those who wish to make purchases, whether in small or large lots, should not forget to give McClelland's an early call. He has just received an immense stock of boots, shoes, gaiters, overcoatings, hosiery, and hats, caps and furs, direct from the manufactories in the East, which he is prepared to sell at lower prices than can the same goods be bought for in any other house in the city.

Celebrated Finkle & Lyon

Lock Stitch Sewing Machine stitches alike on both sides. It is adapted for every description of family sewing. It hems, fells, binds, braids and tucks without measuring, and makes the tucks more uniform; also gathers and cords. Nay, the fact is out, and no arts of the trade can disguise it, viz: it will stitch from the finest gauze to the thickest beaver cloth without any change in feed needle or tension. All those vexatious adjusments and obstacles are removed. If the purchaser, after a fair trial does not regard the Finkle & Lyon Sewing Machine as superior to any machine in the market, he can return it and have his money. The cheapest machine by 20 per cent. in use.

Get the Best—They Always Give Satisfaction.

Every week, Dr. Quincy A. Scott is called upon to insert Artificial Teeth in cases where other dentists have tried, been paid, and failed, and in every case his work gives entire satisfaction. He is quite an artist in his line of business, and has merely to examine a case to know how to articulate the teeth so that they will present a handsome and natural appearance, and will masticate the food thoroughly. His prices are lower than those of any dentist in the city, and he will guarantee his work to be superior. So it would better for any of our readers who are in want of teeth, to call upon the Dr. in the first place, and thereby save their time and money. We would also assure those persons who are suffering with diseased and unsightly teeth that they can have them extracted without any pain whatever, by calling upon Dr. Scott. He has extracted for over ten thousand persons within the last seven years, and among this large number there is not one case in which his process has proved injurious. On the contrary, he can refer to numbers of his patients who claim to have been benefitted in renewed health. He extracts numbers daily by the new "Rhigolene or Vapor" process, and gives pure Laughing Gas to those who desire it, without charge. He makes no charge for extracting when artificial teeth are ordered, and gives a full set on Vulcanite, with beautiful gums, for eight dollars. Remember his number, 278 Penn street third door above Hand.

THE SENATORSHIP.

Six years ago the Republicans of Pennsylvania elected Mr. EDGAR COWAN to a seat in the United States Senate. He had not been tried in public life, but had been somewhat prominent at the bar and in local politics. Possessing more than ordinary mental endowments, and these improved by a breadth of culture rare among his class, he early espoused the side of the Whigs, and later, upon the organization of the Republican party, attached himself to it. A radical in his views, and living in a county where those views were held by only a lean minority of the citizens, there seemed to be good reasons for supposing his radicalism was grounded both in rational conviction and in natural impulse. Entering the Senate at an epoch of most unusual ferment, when old foundations were giving way, and new securities for order and liberty had to be laid, he seemed in the whirl and excitement, the upheavings and crash of events, to lose his balance, and when he recovered self-possession he crystalized into an ultra conservative, and talked and voted in a way to give a large measure of satisfaction to the rebels all through the war. We do not impeach his sincerity. He claims to have acted conscientiously, and we are not disposed to deny the truthfulness of his plea. Sincerity is much commoner than superficial observers imagine. A considerable number of the great crimes which, in various ages, have appalled mankind, have been committed under a sense of duty. When men settle down full in the belief that they ought to do that which is intrinsically wrong, they become dangerous in a superlative degree. Saul, Torquemada, Robespierre, may be taken as specimens. What we do impeach Mr. COWAN for is that having obtained a position of great influence by professing sympathy with the Republican party, he held on to that position after he felt constrained to violate the honorable pledges upon which he obtained it. If he had said to the Republicans, "I received the Senatorship at your hands, agreeing with your aims and fully expecting to cooperate with you to the end, but a change has come over my views which makes it impossible for me to fulfill my implied engagement, and hence I surrender the trust," he would have shown a true sense of honor. He chose not to do this, but to wield the power he held, to destroy, if possible, those from whom he received it.

Now the Republicans are called upon to name a Senator to succeed Mr. COWAN upon the expiration of his term. The betrayal they have experienced makes them apprehensive. They feel that special cautions ought to be used to guard against a repetition of such a disaster. Unfortunately no provision can guard effectually against treachery. Mr. COWAN's antecedents furnished as complete a guarantee as could be desired, except in one particular. He had not been tried in public life. It had not been demonstrated how he would bear the strain of actual service, and under extraordinary conditions. When tried he proved lamentably deficient. This suggests a test.

The new Senator ought to be a man of large intellectual powers. The Senate, especially in these times, is not the best place for even respectable mediocrity. The republic has pressing need of the best abilities. If there ever was a time when the clearest headed and most sagacious men were needed in the management of public affairs, that time is now, and the place Washington. Nor are high moral qualities less indispensable. It is true that some men of blemished morals make better public servants than other men whose morals are unimpeachable. Indeed, as no men are perfect, the choice seems to be between differing degrees of infirmity. Other qualifications being equal, there ought to be no hesitancy in taking the man whose morality is most transparent. But just here, the test to which we have referred is of great efficacy. The new Senator ought to be a tried man. In the military service it would be accounted perilous to take a man from the ranks, and, at a bound, land him at the head of an army. A man who has hesitated, drawn back, been confused in his judgment, and left those who watched him in doubt as to which way to go, during any crisis of the war is not fit to be entrusted with the Senatorship at the present juncture, when the waves are running higher than during the actual storm. There are men whose judgments have not been at fault, whose self-possession has not been shaken, whose fidelity has never quailed, whose nodding plumes in the van have ever been banners, and whose flashing swords have carved the way to victory. From these the Senator ought to be taken. It would be an insult to these true men to take one of a less grade; and it would be perilous to the public welfare. It is a good time for small men and doubtful men to stand back and let the other sort be honored and employed.

SUPPLY OF GAS.

The increasing value of bituminous coal in New York makes the use of gas there for illuminating purposes so expensive as to be burdensome. Various schemes have been devised to lessen the evil. The one chiefly recommended and pursued is to abuse the Gas Companies, which, however, much it may have relieved the feelings of the abusers, has wrought no diminution in the rates exacted for the other and more beneficial sort of gas. Other schemes have been devised; the latest suggestion being to manufacture gas in the coal regions of Pennsylvania and run it through tubes to the Metropolis. This scheme rests upon the false hypothesis that gas can be readily produced in Schuylkill or Carbon counties from anthracite coal. However much gas anthracite may contain, such is the condition of scientific knowledge that no feasible method has yet been devised for evolving it. Anthracite has been used to some extent, mixed with bituminous, but these experiments have not been satisfactory, either in the quality of the gas produced or in the expense of the manufacture. Besides, all managers of gas works know, that even when the retorts are located as near the consumers as possible, the operation of natural causes, superadded to the pressure required to force the gas into the pipes and through the burners, so as to maintain a steady flow, result in a condensation into water of a large proportion of the entire product. In New York this condensation must be as much as twenty per centum. It is apparent that if the retorts should be removed one hundred and fifty miles away, and planted on the higher territory of the anthracite coal fields, say from one thousand to fifteen hundred feet above the city, an amount of pressure would be required to propel the gas which would perhaps result in the condensation of the whole of it before it reached the intended consumers. To obviate this difficulty, it is proposed to employ suction instead of pressure. Some advantage may be gained by this exchange, if it should be found practicable; but not enough to take the scheme out of the category of the purely visionary.

Enough gas, of the very best quality for illumination, is thrown off into the atmosphere, in and near this city, to supply a number of such cities as New York. It is a gigantic waste, discreditable to the scientific attainments of the age. Now, if New Yorkers are earnestly in pursuit of a speculation in the way of cheapening the cost of lighting, here is their opportunity. They will find plenty of gas already made to their hands, and all they will have to do will be to bottle it, or run it into pipes, and carry it away. Down at Allentown, some years ago, an enterprising individual started and conducted a gas works without laying mains. He simply ran the gas into bags; put the bags on wagons rigged similarly to those used for transporting hay; and in this manner supplied his customers. Here is an idea. If the railroad companies could be induced to carry gas at the same rate per ton as iron, the freight would cost little. As we view the matter, this plan is just as rational as the one the New Yorkers are talking of.

THE Texas Legislature has appropriated $2,000, or so much of that sum as may be necessary, for conveying the remains of Gen. A. S. Johnston from New Orleans to Austin for interment in the State Cemetery. A committee of one from the Senate and two from the House was appointed to superintend the removal. A resolution was also introduced directing the Governor to enquire whether or not Mrs. Johnston wishes to return to Texas, and making an appropriation for that purpose.

Desperate Leap of an Insane Man from a Railroad Train.

It is known to many that Mr. George Bartlett, of the firm of Bartlett Brothers, under the Sherman House, has been for some time insane, and was taken about a year ago for treatment to the State Asylum, at Jacksonville. After a previous unsuccessful attempt, he lately escaped from that institution and returned to Chicago. There seemed to be no abatement in his malady, and, after a short sojourn in the city, it was determined by his friends to take him back to the asylum. He manifested the most intense opposition to this when it was being discussed, and continued to do so until he was safely esconsed on the train.

After the train was under way, with that deep cunning which is often exhibited by insane persons, he professed to believe that, upon a due consideration, his best course would be to yield to the wishes of his friends. The train left here on Wednesday night. Deceived by his professions of acquiescence, the two gentlemen retired to rest, one of them—Mr. Willard, occupying the same berth with Mr. Bartlett. At about four o'clock in the morning, Mr. Bartlett arose form his berth and retired to one end of the car, but his absence being discovered, he returned again to his couch. Shortly afterwards he made a renewed attempt to get out of bed, but was detected and induced to desist.

In a few minutes more, when his bedfellow had dropped into a momentary slumber, he appears to have sprung lightly from his berth and to have gone to the door of the car. His absence was discovered in an instant by his guardian, who at once sprang to the floor and rushed out upon the platform. Just as he was opening the door he met the colored janitor, who informed him that Mr. Bartlett had gone out on the platform in his stocking feet, and had jumped from the train. The train was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour at the time, and it was very difficult for a person to maintain a footing outside of the car.

The scene of the occurrence was about five miles this side of Lincoln, which place the train reached in a few minutes. Here Mr. Willard and Mr. Huntington got off from the train, and as soon as it was daylight proceeded on foot up the track for a distance of twelve miles, but without finding a single trace of the insane man. Every nook, cranny, and culvert on either side was searched, but nothing was seen to indicate that Mr Bartlett was in the region, nor was there anything to tell where he had landed when he made the fearful leap.

The embankment for the whole distance was a soft, grassy, or sandy nature, and, incredible as it may seem, it is believed that he has sustained no injury, but is lurking somewhere in the vicinity. This happened on Thursday morning, and though the search has been continued under the superintendence of the lunatic's brother, Mr. William Bartlett, and several other persons, ever since the occurrence, nothing has yet been discovered of the insane man. Mr. Bartlett has an insurance of $100,000 on his life, which makes the question of his safety a matter of great pecuniary interest to the life insurance companies.—Chicago Republican.

Northern Merchants and Southern Debtors.

A writer in the Richmond Whig confesses, with an ill grace, that Northern merchants have been lenient with their Southern debtors. He says:

"We believe that human wisdom cannot get us out of our troubles, and that great distress is inevitable. But let the people themselves feel that the remedy is in their own hands. They must compromise debts, and they are doing so. Abuse the Yankees as we will, but give the devil his due. They compromise on liberal terms with their Virginia debtors. In the past twelve months many thousand dollars of debt have been paid in New York and Philadelphia at twenty-five cents on the dollar. Merchants this day going on in business have thus discharged their debts. And our people are doing the same. And necessity will compel them to continue to compromise debts, and higher motives will also induce them. Let the Legislature enact every law for their relief which they can pass, but let the people do their duty, too. Deeds of trust cannot be avoided. There is no disgrace in making a deed of trust, and they will be made. Let their provisions be fair and just and honest, and public opinion will sustain parties executing them. Creditors must lose, but not all due them; they have some rights. We must practice rigid and self-denying economy; and industry, energy, honesty, and frugality will be rewarded with success. Realizing our poverty, we must conform our habits and modes of life to our impoverished condition. The Legislature cannot make money, and tinkering with obligations and remedies is dangerous. Repudiation is an expensive luxury, destructive of credit, on the proper use and regulation of which our future success in a measure depends. We have an assurance of the supply of food and raiment if we "trust in the Lord and do good," and no discharge of our obligations, except honorably, can compensate for the loss of self-respect."

The Body of Jeremy Bentham.

The London Notes and Queries contains a letter from the late Dr. Southwood Smith in relation to the disposal of the body of Jeremy Bentham. The letter is dated June 14, 1857, and says: "Jeremy Bentham left by will his body to me for dissection. I was also to deliver a public lecture over his body to medical students and the public generally. The latter was done at the Webb street school, Brougham, James Mill, Grote and other disciples of Bentham being present. After the usual anatomical demonstrations over the body, a skeleton was made of the bones. I endeavored to preserve the head untouched, merely drawing away the fluids by placing it under an air pump over sulphuric acid. By this means the head was rendered as hard as the skulls of the New Zealanders, but all expression was gone, of course. Seeing this would not do for exhibition, I had a model made in wax by a distinguished French artist, taken from David's bust, Pickersgill's picture, and my own ring. The artist succeeded in producing one of the most admirable likenesses ever seen. I then had the skeleton stuffed out to fit Bentham's own clothes, and this wax likeness fitted to the trunk. This figure was placed seated on the chair he usually sat, and one hand holding the walking stick, which was his constant companion when he went out, called by him Dapple. The whole was enclosed in a mahogany case, with folding glass doors. When I removed from Finsbury square I had no room large enough to hold the case; I therefore gave it to the University College, where it now is."

—Pittsburgh and its suburbs are to be consolidated.—Boston Post. Who told you so?

SCARCITY OF LABOR IN ILLINOIS.—The Springfield (Ill.) State Register says: "Our master builders, contractors and boss mechanics of all classes of business are complaining bitterly of the scarcity of labor of all kinds. Laborers' pay in this city is now $2 per day; stone cutters and masons, $4,25; plasterers, $4,50; carpenters and painters, $3,50; and these prices, large as they seem, do not secure enough labor to carry on the work already begun. The various public improvements, the water works, sewerage and post-office building, are all delayed in construction from this cause, and as Springfield offers the same wages as other points, there appears to be no other remedy for the inconvenience but to wait patiently until time brings relief."

SINGULAR NOTIONS OF THE MARRIAGE RELATION.—The Chicago Republican says a man, who said he was thirty-five years old, called on a justice on Saturday night, asking to be married to a girl of seventeen years. The justice asked the usual questions, and received correct answers until the following was propounded: "Have you ever been married before?" "Yes." "Is your wife still living?" "Yes." "Are you divorced from her?" "No." "Where is she?" "I sold her." "How much did you get for her?" "None of your business." "Well, I can't marry you if your wife is living." "But she liked a younger feller better than she did me, and was willing to be sold for $200 if he bought her; so I let her go."

LOCKE AND THE MOON HOAX.—A. de Morgan, in his Budget of Paradoxes (London Athenæum), disputes Locke's authorship of the moon hoax. He credits Nicollet with it. "I have no doubt that M. Nicollet was the author of the moon hoax, written in a way which marks the practiced observatory astronomer beyond all doubt, and by evidence seen in the most minute details. Nicollet had an eye to Europe. I suspect that he took Poe's story and made it a basis for his own. Mr. Locke, it would seem, when he attempted a fabrication for himself, did not succeed."

PITTSBURGH, MAY, 10th, 1866.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH:

GENTLEMEN:—During a visit to the West last fall, I contracted chills and fever, which brought me to my bed, and finally terminated in typhoid fever, and confined me to my room for several months, during which time I was physically so prostrated that I almost despaired of ever recovering my health, having almost entirely lost my appetite for days, not being able to eat a morsel, added to which I was distressed with a reeling sensation in my head, and passed many sleepless nights—all from debility caused by my prostrate condition, brought about by fever. At this stage of my condition a friend recommended me to use your celebrated Stomach Bitters, but being morally opposed to the use of stimulants in any form, I at first declined, but afterward yielded my prejudices, and after taking the medicine for several weeks, my appetite returned, and with it I am rapidly regaining my former strength and vigor. My sleep (from the loss of which I have suffered much) has never been better than it is now, and the reeling sensation (before alluded to) has entirely left me. My bowels, which were much constipated and irregular, are now quite natural, and, in fact, I am glad to say that I feel myself a new man, and tender you this testimonial of my appreciation of your valuable preparation in order that others may avail themselves of its virtues, which prejudice kept me from enjoying for so long a period. I may also add that my physician, after seeing beneficial effect of your Bitters on me, recommended that I use them regularly.

Yours, very respectfully,
E. BOURNE,
No. 48 Market Street.

Woman's Work in the Civil War;
BY L. P. BROCKETT, M. D.,
AND
Mrs. MARY C. VAUGHAN.
This work, prepared under the sanction and approval of the United States Sanitary Commission, the Western Sanitary Commission, and the Christian Commission, is in the press, and will be published early in January next. Its preparation was commenced more than three years ago, and has since been prosecuted with care and diligence. No effort or expense has been spared to make it authentic, complete and interesting. Its materials have been furnished by the families or friends of the subjects. It will contain sketches of one hundred and seventy-five ladies, distinguished for their labors in behalf of the Soldiers, Refugees and Freedmen, with abundant incidents of their work, and brief notices of about four hundred others, while a just tribute will be paid to the thousands of nameless Heroines, who braved every danger and privation, or quietly toiled and sacrificed time, health and many of them life, to give aid and relief to our suffering soldiers.
Some of the ablest pens in the nation have been employed in the preparation of the sketches, and the Introduction is written by an eminent scholar and divine, himself actively engaged during the war in philanthropic labors.
The work will contain about 600 pages, small quarto, and be embellished with numerous steel portraits, by the best engravers in the country from photographs, or paintings of the subjects.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.
GURNER & CO.,
No. 80 Cedar St., New York,
Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is not without merit. They have only to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a purifier of blood they excel all other Wines, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are useful in all cases for which they are recommended.
The following brands are now offered by us. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for sale:
WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw color, very delicate and fine flavored.
CLARET—A superior wine for table use.
ANGELICA—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it makes fine wheys and jellies. It is a fine dessert wine, and well adapted for Communion purposes.
MUSCATEL—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.
PORT—Deep red color, fine flavor, and in many respects similar to the old wines of Lisbon.
GRAPE BRANDY—The pure distillation of our wines.
WINE BITTERS—A very agreeable tonic and a sure remedy for the diarrhea.
This is one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has ever been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last four years, and wherever introduced it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard.
Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner whose stomachs are out of order and whose systems are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children of sickly nature and sour, dyspeptic constitutions; travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who live in malarious districts and are subject to miasmatic influences, will find it one of the most valuable invigorators that can be taken.
It was used very extensively in 1861, with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public now we deem it unnecessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the very strongest terms in its favor. All that we can say is to guarantee that we will pledge ourselves to furnish an article PURE AND UNADULTERATED.
It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill has been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She began with but a teaspoonful a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

E. S. ABORN, M. D.,
OCULAR
AND AURAL SURGEON,
AND
Physician for Diseases of the Respiratory Organs,
HAS TAKEN ROOMS AT THE Merchants' Hotel,
Where he will be prepared to practice the most recent and scientific system of MEDICINE and SURGERY, for the alleviation of suffering humanity.

ALL DISEASES OF THE EYE
AND
AND THE ORGANS OF THE CHEST
TREATED WITH THE UTMOST SUCCESS.

Embracing all Acute and Chronic Maladies of the Eye, Blindness, Cross Eye, Falling of the Eyelid, Catarrh, etc., Deafness, Roaring and Buzzing in the Ears, Discharge from the Ears etc., Diseases of the Nose, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption and Affections of the Heart and Stomach.

HEALTH IS THE HIGHEST BLESSING!

Man will give all he has for relief from disability and pain. Yet thousands suffer for a long series of years, and linger out a useless life, who, with proper treatment, might be restored to health and contribute to the health and happiness of others. But the fault is not with the patient, for he tries persistently the various Doctors and

QUACK NOSTRUMS

For relief, and finds it not. The reason is, the general physician has but little time to inform himself in regard to the improvements in medicine and surgery. Many physicians know but little of the causes of disease and are consequently ignorant of cure, with out a limited opportunity for extensive study, and restricted in their observations to a small circle of country, they cannot expect to become expert in all diseases. A scientific and practical means of cure must result from long study and extensive research in respect to special diseases. Of this fact medical men of this country and all the countries of Europe are aware; and the ablest practitioners are giving their best energies to special diseases. They have mastered the laws of life and health—marked the pathological changes in disease—and found safe and effectual remedies. To long and patient study of the diseases of the

EYE, EAR,
Throat, Lungs and Chest,

And his discoveries of new remedies and new applications of old ones, DR. ABORN owes his unparalleled success in curing diseases that have long baffled all previous treatment. And his dexterous and delicate surgical operations on the Eye, Ear, &c.,

Are the fruits of his exact knowledge of Anatomy and an extensive practice of his art as surgeon of the Eye and Ear Infirmary of San Francisco, Cal., and as Physician and Surgeon-in-Chief of the Nashville Medical and Surgical Institute. The most despairing Invalids will be encouraged to hope for cure on visiting his rooms and witnessing the numerous testimonials and evidence of his skill.

CATARRH.

Catarrh of the head is the commonest of diseases. In its early stage it is scarcely noticed. The patient complains a little of cold in the head, but heeds not the warning; or, if he does, he is likely to amuse himself with the thousand and one snuffs and snuffs recommended by a regiment of self-styled doctors or grandames. And so the disease runs on, till it results in Chronic Coryza, Gravedo, or general Ozœna. Then comes the annoying symptoms of lassitude, painful limbs, aching back, tightness across the forehead, corrupt discharges, profuse lachrymation, hoarseness, sore throat, furred tongue, nausea, loss of appetite, and general debility. If the disease is not soon arrested the throat becomes inflamed by the putrid discharges, the bronchi irritated, and the lungs poisoned by the inhalation of air passing over the diseased part, about twenty thousand times a day, and pregnant with the disgusting effluvia. A cough soon ensues, which, aggravated by the filthy head, accumulations gravitating downwards, continues until the lungs give way, and fatal Consumption closes the scene. The slightest cold in the head, therefore, should receive prompt attention, for the cure at this stage is easy; but if allowed to become chronic catarrh, it requires the best skill and a long time to cure it. Indeed patients laboring under this terrible malady have looked in vain for help. Such should know that Dr. ABORN has discovered a treatment sure to give speedy relief, and to result finally in a complete cure.

OTORRHŒA.

This disease is distinguished by a purulent or mucopurulent discharge from the ear, which is only a symptom of the real disease. Many suffer through life with this evil under the impression that it cannot be cured, or because some wonderful prodigy has promulgated the idea that to arrest the discharge is to pen up the poison in the system to break out in some more dangerous part. The stupidity of such persons is to be pitied. What, keep open a sluiceway for running off corrupt humors, or cleanse the fountain that the filthy stream may dry up! A thimbleful of common sense guided by a competent knowledge of the nature and causes of this disease, will eradicate it in a short time, not only without injury but with a remarkable improvement of the general health. The causes of this affection are inflammation from teething or from exanthematous diseases, from polypi, from granulations of the membrana tympani, scrofula, &c. It is easy to see that if the cause is a polypus, it can easily be removed and with as little danger as the extirpation of a wart on the hand. The same is true if granulations of the tympanum are the cause; and if the inflammation is the result of a scrofulous condition or a malarious poison, eliminate the poison or change the cochexia and the cause ceases. Thus a safe cure is effected. The different varieties and causes of this troublesome complaint may be learned at DR. ABORN'S rooms, and a sure and safe remedy obtained.

Hope for Consumptives!

Colds produce Catarrh, Catarrh produces Laryngitis, Tracheatis, Bronchitis and Consumption. These diseases have long baffled the ordinary modes of treatment, because remedies have not been brought to bear on the parts affected. But by Dr. ABORN'S New Inhalator, every part of the breathing apparatus can at once be reached by medicated inhalation, and the most astonishing results follow its application. Diseases of the throat and lungs are speedily cured, while the inhalation is entirely agreeable and pleasant.

ABORN'S surgical operations, and the wonderful cures of cases of long-standing and generally deemed hopeless by patients and physicians are happy to lend our names for the encouragement of the afflicted, that they may not despair even in the most desperate cases:

TESTIMONIALS.

Of the many testimonials in our possession we select the following. Others from persons of character and high social position, who may be referred to, and can be seen by calling at the Merchant's Hotel:

As an Act of Justice.

I regard it as an act of simple justice to say that Dr. E. S. Aborn has been practicing as a physician and surgeon in Scranton for six weeks past, during which he has successfully treated a number of difficult cases thought to be incurable, and further, that I consider him to be a skillful physician, and one every way entitled to confidence.
I. RONEY,
Supt. and Principal of High School.
SCRANTON, Oct. 1 1866.

To the Suffering.

I have been suffering with chronic sore eyes for fifteen months. My attention was called to Dr. Aborn's advertisements in the papers of the day. I called upon him, and have been under his treatment a few days, and I have found great relief; indeed, I feel nearly well, and would adjure all who are suffering with disease of the eye to call on him, believing they will find relief.
HON. ASA FAULKNER,
Member of the General Assembly.
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
NASHVILLE, June 17th, 1866.

A Wonderful Cure.

Read the following sworn affidavit regarding the cure of a case of deafness of twenty-two years standing, by Dr. Aborn:
This is to certify that I have been totally deaf in my left ear for twenty-two years, and that Dr. Aborn restored the hearing in five minutes time, the first time I have been able to hear out of the left ear for twenty-two years. As I consider this a remarkable cure, I have voluntarily made this statement.
JOHN S. RUPLE.

Aborn, the eminent physician and surgeon, formerly of the city of San Francisco, California, and more recently of the Nashville Medical and Surgical Institute, whose wonderful success has astounded the world in the treatment of Deafness, Blindness, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitas, and all chest diseases, has arrived in our city. The press of Nashville and San Francisco teems with the most flattering notices of Dr. Aborn's skill and the many testimonials he bears from men of high social positions, place him above the suspicion of quackery, from which our people have so long suffered, and point to him as a ministering angel to those who are afflicted.—Memphis Appeal, Dec. 1865.

TO THE PUBLIC.—I cheerfully and voluntarily make known the fact that I had been deaf for nine years, and that Dr. Aborn restored my hearing perfectly by two operations. I bid the Doctor God speed in his work of mercy. P. O'HORA.

MRS. M. C. BROWN'S
METAPHYSICAL DISCOVERY,
Price, $4,00.
Offices—410 Arch St., Philadelphia,
51 Bond Street, New York.

No boring with instruments.
No blowing in the ears.
No snuffing up the nostrils or introducing wires.
No pouring medicines down the throat.
The METAPHYSICAL DISCOVERY will reach every spot that drugs and instruments will reach, and thousands of places besides.
Truth is mighty and must prevail; error is pregnated with death—consequently must sooner or later sink into oblivion.

ARE YOU PREJUDICED!

In consequence of the prejudice existing against patent medicines, it is my earnest desire that my Metaphysical Discovery should not be received or classed with patent medicines of the age. You ask me why? I answer, because it is a scientific specialty, differing in application, tendencies and results, from all other remedies and preparations which have ever gone before it. And further, because the Metaphysical Discovery is the result of inherited power to trace effects to their first cause; therefore let it be understood that the Metaphysical Discovery is not only the result of inherited power, but also the result of a life of rare philosophical research, and that too, in an unbeaten track.

Eyes, and They See Not.

Awake, ye slumbering world and behold yourselves and your children in the prison house of disease, from the cradle to the grave, betake yourselves to thought—think and live. The world writhes in pain and passes into untimely graves. Mark, learn, that your friends die through experimenting on. Every effect driven is a death blow to the physical system. I have never met an individual who was treated for anything but effect. There are many agonizing hearts, sorrowful homes and grassy graves through the use of instruments which torture, and medicines which destroy the system.
The Discovery consists of three distinct preparations, which pass into the system by absorption through the Eyes, Ears and Scalp.
It is packed in a neat wooden case, and will be sent to any address in the world, on receipt of the above price.

CERTIFICATES OF CURES.

I, S. C. Chase, of Cambridgeport, Mass., do certify that I have been troubled with a bad catarrh for upwards of thirty years. I obtained Mrs. M. G. Brown's Metaphysical Discovery, and in ten minutes after using it found relief. I have used the medicine faithfully, and believe it went to the root of my disease. I feel as if catarrh was eradicated from my system, the foul effects of the sad disease having ceased. My wife also has been suffering from a complication of diseases. On using the Discovery, clotted blood and matter rushed from her head, and she found immediate relief, and has been gaining health ever since. We heartily recommend the Metaphysical Discovery to all who suffer.

CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, &c.

Mrs. Cheever, residing at No. 6 Allen street, Boston, Mass., says: "I have been troubled for years with asthma, catarrh, and sore throat. I suffered from continual pain and dizziness in my head, cold feet, &c.; for eight years could not attend to my household duties, and had despaired of ever being cured. Providentially learning of Mrs. M. G. Brown's Metaphysical Discovery, I obtained it. The result is, I am entirely cured, and determined to keep a box of it always in my house."

MRS. GEORGE VAUGHN'S CERTIFICATE, OF MALDEN MASS.

This is to certify that I have suffered for ten years from dyspepsia, catarrh, and a complication of diseases. For the past year I have been restless, and could not sleep at night, so exhausted had I become, that I was unable to do my household duties. I became so cold that it seemed impossible to keep warm. For sometime my eyes were very much diseased, and my hearing dull. Myself and friends considered me in Consumption. In this state I went to Mrs. M. G. Brown and obtained the Metaphysical Discovery. I have used one box faithfully, and no language can tell the benefit received from it. My eyes have become clear and strong. My dyspepsia is entirely gone. I can now do my own work, and feel altogether a new being. My friends say I am gaining flesh. I know as I was I could not have lived. I feel grateful to God for the benefit I have received. I recommend Mrs. M. G. Brown and her mode of treatment to all who suffer as I have done.

CATARRH CURED.—MR. JEROME A. O'CONNOR, OF OLD CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

This is to certify that I have been troubled with a bad catarrh for the last five years. This winter it became unusually troublesome. I was obliged to rise at night, owing to the mucus, which would have suffocated me. I obtained Mrs. M. G. Brown's Metaphysical Discovery some weeks back, used it faithfully, and my catarrh began to give way at once. I now consider myself a cured young man, being entirely delivered from the terrible disease of catarrh. My sister has also been diseased in her head and eyes from childhood, so much so that the family thought she could not live. In the use of the Discovery she has received equal benefit with myself. We cordially recommend the Metaphysical Discovery.

MISS E. LOGAN'S CERTIFICATE.

I, Emma Logan, do hereby testify that I have had a severe cough for six years; would cough and raise for three hours at a time; often I could not lie down at night; going up stairs, any work would exhaust me. I have been taking medicine and doctoring all the time, but was still getting worse. Providentially a friend procured Mrs. M. G. Brown's Metaphysical Discovery. I have used it one week, and my cough is nearly gone. I have got rid of the tightness in my throat. I can now take a long breath, which I could not do before. I can go up and down stairs without feeling any fatigue. I feel disease is fast leaving my system. No. 374 Hanover street, Boston, Mass.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

A case of the worst type of Chronic Sore Eyes of Twenty-five years standing cured by my Metaphysical Discovery.

I, Eliza B. Jeffries, do certify that I have been suffering for twenty-five years with diseased eyes, taken from measles when a child. I cannot describe the nature of all my sufferings, but will state that my eyes ran corruption and water all the time. My cheeks also broke out down to my chin, and the matter from both eyes and face kept constantly dropping on my dress. All the doctors I applied to failed to render me relief, and I despaired of finding it until learning of the wonderful cures made by Mrs. M. G. Brown, when hope entered my breast. I went to see her, and brought home with me the Metaphysical Discovery. I used it according to directions, and now most solemnly and thankfully declare, that through the blessing of God and the use of Mrs. M. G. Brown's medicines I am a cured woman.

FIVE NEW CASES OF DEAFNESS IN AND AROUND PHILADELPHIA.

Noises in the Head, Running of the Ears, Stiff Neck and Sore Throat cured by Mrs. M. G. Brown, 410 Arch street, Metaphysical Physician, Professor on the Eye, Ear, Throat and Scalp.
The following persons have been cured of the above diseases through the use of my Metaphysical Discovery:
Miss Rebecca Watson, St. Paul street, Frankford, cured of deafness and noises in the head can now hear the children called by their names in the next house.
William Einwechler, 1349 North Front street, a lad of about 15 years, was very deaf; can now hear the notes distinctly on the piano. Could not hear a sound before. His whole system is benefitted, as he was an invalid.
Peter Kelly, 1637 South Second street, was quite deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, has regained the hearing of both well.
Daniel Humphreys, of Darby township, had a swelled and stiff neck for eight years, could not turn his head without turning round his whole body; had also a large lump, size of a ball, and hard, under his chin, for one year. Both have disappeared through the use of my Metaphysical Discovery.
A son of Captain David Ware, in Wilmington, Delaware, has been cured of deafness and running of the ears, of 15 years standing. Spent large sums of money on different remedies; could find no benefit; procured my Metaphysical Discovery, which immediately cured him.

CERTIFICATE FROM THE REV. P. S. HENSON, PASTOR OF THE BROAD STREET BAPTIST CHURCH, PHILADELPHIA.

From injuries received in my right eye when a boy, a chronic inflammation has been produced, in consequence of which I suffered martyrdom. Every moment of my waking life was embittered, and I was frequently unable to sleep at night. A variety of remedies has been resorted to without success, and I entertained the purpose, as a last resort, of having the ball taken out of the socket, in the hope of thus finding relief. In the meantime, most providentially, I noticed one day in a shop window a bottle of POOR RICHARD'S EYE WATER. I had never heard of it before, and I determined to try it, and did, with the most delightful results. In a few days the painful irritation was removed. I could bear the strongest light, and went forth as it were to the enjoyment of a new life. I now keep a bottle of it always in the house, and if my eye seems at all disposed to annoy me, I give it a dose, and there is an end to it. I would not be without it for any amount of money. I have occasion to say further, that my wife used to suffer severely at times from protracted pain in and over her eyes, and she has found Poor Richard's Eye Water a sovereign specific in her case, giving her almost instant relief.
Grateful to God for the benefit I have personally received, I cannot but commend the preparation most cordially to those who have suffered like myself.

Pastor of the Broad St. Baptist Church.

Winter Fashions.

What engrosses a woman's attention like the details of the latest decree of those who say what they shall, and what they shall not wear? They may purse up their mouths—affect a contempt for fashion's foibles, and declare in all earnestness that they will not wear the new monstrosity, fresh though it be from the great centre of fashion—Paris, tinged yet with the lascivious air of the Louvre or the grand salons of the Tuilleries, yet ere their opposition assumes a tangible shape, their repugnance wilts away, and they become the most enthusiastic worshippers among the bevy of devotees at the shrine of the "new style." That our lady readers may know what habiliments they are expected to don during the next three months, we give below a full description of the latest mandates of the demi monde from the recognized authorities:

No matter what shaped pedals Nature has gifted you with—whether fairly rounded or the reverse—you must make up your minds to wear short petticoats and narrow crinoline, for, before the winter is over, no fashionable lady will be seen on the streets with a train. The colored petticoat will be abandoned altogether, while one cut from the same material as the dress will take its place. The arrangement of this new style of toilet (with two skirts, so to speak) will be as follows: First, a petticoat will be made to reach as far as the knee, with any material that is convenient; to this will be joined a deep border of the same material as the dress. This border is plain at the edge, and if any trimming is desired it is placed above the straight hem.

The second or upper skirt is very narrow round the hips, and is cut out at the edge in large round scollops. This edge is occasionally varied, according to the taste, by cutting it in squares, like the top of a battlement; or in vandykes or festoons; but whatever form it assumes, it is always bordered either with velvet gimp or narrow silk fringe.

The following is a pretty model: A dark blue faille dress, cut round the edge of the skirt in round scollops, and bordered with a plait or tress of thick black purse silk; on the under-skirt three rows of black gimp of the same pattern as the silk plait. The fourreau is cut in the princess form, and the bodies are trimmed with a tress of black silk.

Bands made partly of satin and partly of velvet are now sold for petticoat trimmings. They are very handsome, and are advantageous in this respect—they can be easily imitated and mounted by a skillful maid without the aid of a professed dress-maker, and also pieces of velvet and satin, that may have lain by as too small for other purposes, can now be utilized for trimming winter petticoats; the narrower the alternate stripes of velvet and satin are, the better is their effect.

The Gabrielle or Princess form of dress, which has been so very popular, has by no means dethroned the small jackets; and now that ladies have found out what an exceedingly useful garment a small jacket is, they will cling to the fashion pertinaciously. They are still made without sleeves for dressy toilets, and of lace with sleeves for wearing low dresses. Beads are so fashionable that they are imitated in gimp, particularly the white beads, which have been lavished on black gimps. The effect is pretty, but these simulations possess a great advantage over the reality in being lighter than the glass and jet beads. Besides, silk beads are cheaper than the veritable beads. A black silk gimp which describes festoons, and is studded with white silk dots, looking like chalk beads, is the favorite pattern for trimming black silk peplums and black silk jackets.

For paletots and peplums, which are made of the same material as the dress, it is always considered more distinguished to select the trimmings to match the dress, than to contrast in color from it.

Feather trimmings are much used on both dresses and paletots. A very original style of toilet, much admired, is a low peplum made of cerise silk, bordered with black feather trimming, and worn over a high white silk gauze dress. Both white and colored feather trimmings are very popular round silk peplums. A band of hawk's feathers round a poplin paletot with facings is considered very elegant; in fact, these feather trimmings are looked upon as demi-saison furs. They are, however, by no means used indiscriminately; bands of peacock's feathers are only to be seen round paletots made of the richest and most delicate silks and poplins, while the black feathers are seen only on cashmere paletots. The cashmere is cut out in scallops, and the feather band follows the outline of the scallops; the small collar is likewise bordered with feathers, as are the tops and cuffs of the sleeves.

The materials that will be most in vogue for out-door dresses are faille (unwatered moire) and poplin. The latter is preferred by young married and unmarried woman; and so great has been the demand for it within the past fortnight, that its price has been considerably augmented. The favorite colors are pale blue—of a bright shade—dark brilliant blue and pearl-gray. Dresses are now made with basquines which are simulated with trimming. When the trimming is of rather a heavy description, such as either thick silk or chenille fringe, or a pinked out ruche, the illusion is complete, and the effect leads one to suppose that the dress has a basquine. This simulated basquine naturally fits well, being the bodice. Coat-tails are likewise simulated on skirts by means of trimming; but, of course, these simulations are only possible when the silks are cut plain and without any plaits at the waist. This novel style of trimming is sometimes very original, as, for example, on a blue silk dress, which was made recently by one of our fashional dressmakers. The skirt was gored until it was plain all around the waist; black ribbon velvet sewn on plain, and a second row of black velvet vandyked at the edge, described the contour of a basque. The vandyked velvet (which was cut from the piece and was not ribbon,) descended straight down the back breadth of the skirt until it reached the top of the hem, describing one wide coat-tail, which completely inclosed the width of the back.

Of all the varied shapes of bonnets now out, the Queen Emma, so called in honor of our late royal visitor from the Sandwich Islands, is destined to become the most popular, its beauty being relished as a head gear among the ladies. It resembles somewhat the celestial in shape, but forms a sort of lap over the ears, with a number of small points in the back. The trimming consists of two rows of blonde lace, as rich in quality as it is tasteful in pattern. Each fall of lace is headed with three bias folds of royal velvet, while a superb bird of Paradise is gracefully poised on one side, where it is confined by a knot of amber velvet communicating with the bandeau in the inside of the bonnet, which is composed of a torsade of amber velvet with a dainty little cluster of loop or narrow blonde lace on one side, the strings of rich watered white ribbon.

Another very pretty style is the Lambelle. The front is of lilac velvet fluted, and the back which is of plain velvet, is covered with a magnificent coiffure of blonde lace which extends down the side of the bonnet and forms the strings. Benoiton chains of pearls fall at the back. On the inside is a bandeau of velvet, richly ornamented with pearl pendants.

We feel that we have given enough information to enable the girls to make up from it, a superb trosseau, and so we have done.

LETTER FROM NAWAN.

Exciting Trial on Habeas Corpus—Geo. W. Stratton, alias Marks, and his Wife, Amanda Stratton, the Alleged Culprits—Larceny and Particeps, the Charges—Interesting Details of the Trial and the History of the Parties—Marriage in High Life—Hon. H. D. Foster's Second Eldest Daughter Becomes the Bride of a Distinguished Officer in the Regular Army and a Member of President Johnson's Staff, Colonel Long.

GREENSBURG, PA., October 26, 1866.

This usually quiet "burgh," has been, for the past few days, considerably disturbed by the advent of an alleged notorious burglar and a gaily dressed damsel, purporting to be his wife. They came here at the instance of the authorities of Livermore, in this county, the husband charged with the felonious entering of, and the taking from the jewelry store of one J. W. Wilkinson, in Brantford, C. W., jewelry to the amount of $4,000 to $5,000, on the night of the 14th of August last, and the wife with the receiving of the same or some portion of it at Livermore.

The facts of the case, as nearly as I can glean them, are as follows:

The woman is the daughter of Chas. Wood—, of Livermore. Some years ago she left home in rather a miserable and destitute condition, and turned up subsequently in Chicago. There she says she met G. W. Stratton, then in the cigar business, and was married to him last March a year ago. His business not being sufficiently remunerative he sold out and his wife came home to her father, where he shortly afterwards joined her. After he had gone off again she bought a house and lot, to which they all removed. He came back and forth, and frequently packages of large amounts of money came to the wife. The citizens began to suspect that all was not right, and that they were never married at all, but nothing positive was known until Mr. Wilkinson arrived there, got out a search warrant, searched the house and found some of the stolen jewelry. Mrs. Stratton was then arrested and held to bail to answer at the next term of court. The matter rested here until Monday last, when Stratton returned home, and he was also arrested, and in a satchel he had left at Meyers' Hotel, in Blairsville, were found various implements commonly used by burglars, together with a lot of fuses for blowing open locks. He was lodged in jail here and brought before Judge Givin by a habeas corpus on a plea of no jurisdiction. After a full hearing in the case His Honor decided that the prisoner could not be held without due process from the Canadian authorities. Stratton was remanded on a charge, made by a St. Louis detective, of bringing stolen goods into the State of Missouri contrary to statute, and another application for habeas corpus made. The Commonwealth here moved a continuance, which, after considerable discussion was granted until Tuesday next.

In the case of Mrs. Stratton the bail delivered her up and she was brought to trial by a similar writ. She was discharged also, the Judge holding that the wife could not be amenable for receiving the goods from her husband.

Mr. Wilkinson's story is that he had arrested, in Canada, a man named Montgomery, who was suspected as an accomplice, and who turned Queen's evidence and gave such information as led to the detection and arrest of Stratton as principal. He had traced the prisoner to Detroit, and there found two of the stolen watches, thence to St. Louis where he found thirty-six of the watches sold by Stratton, as he alleges, and while there he learned where Stratton lived from an intercepted letter from his wife dated at Livermore. He made no delay in getting to Livermore, and making the search and arrests as aforesaid. He retained Jac. Fainers to assist District Attorney Todd in the prosecution.

Since writing the above the tables have been considerably turned. Stratton, who seems to have plenty of money and a wife with winning ways, employed no less than five Attorneys, i. e.: General Foster, Haslett, Stewart, Given and Candless, who, after being defeated in bringing on an immediate trial on the second charge, sued out an information for perjury against the St. Louis detective, on oath of Mrs. Stratton, but when the officer would arrest him, behold the bird had flown, and all search for him was vain. Then, on oath of Stratton and wife, two capias were issued against Wilkinson, one for trespass et amus, and one for malicious prosecution. He was arrested and gave bail in the sum of $1,000 in each case, and left for Canada to get a regular process. Public opinion is about evenly divided, as to whether they are not all sharpers. Nous verrons.

Miss Lizzie Foster, second eldest daughter of Hon. H. D. Foster, was married last night to Col. A. K. Long, of the regular army, and Private Secretary to President Johnson. The happy couple immediately started east on a bridal tour.

ANAWAN.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Vexed Mexican Question—Arrival of General Sherman—Geo. A. Trenholm Pardoned—The Defeat of the Liberals at Saltillo—Smuggling on the New York Border.

NEW YORK, October 26th.—The Herald's Washington special says: Miss Fanny Seward, daughter of the Secretary of State, is seriously ill at the residence of her father. Yesterday morning it was feared she would not recover, but her physician reported her condition in the evening as somewhat improved. Physicians have been sent for to Auburn, New York, and to Philadelphia. Owing to Miss Seward's illness, the Secretary remained but a short time at his duties in the State Department.

The Times' Washington special still insists that his statement concerning Mexican Affairs are correct, those of the Washington Republican to the contrary notwithstanding. He also says that Mr. Campbell will leave for Mexico as soon as his instructions are completed.

The same special says: General Sherman arrived in this city this evening, and is the guest of General Grant. This evening General Grant, General Sherman, Senor Romeo, Mexican Minister, and Paymaster General Brice, formed a party in a private box at the National Theatre. Considerable significance was attached to the composition of the party. General Sherman's arrival is in consequence of the request sent some days since, by the President, with reference to the prospective change in the War Department, and is confirmatory of my previous dispatches on that subject.

The President has ordered a pardon to be issued to Geo. A. Trenholm, ex rebel Secretary of the Treasury, and senior member of the well known firm of Trenholm, Frazier & Co., of Charleston, S. C., and Liverpool, England.

The Herald's special asserts that there is information sufficient in Washington to show there has been no battle nor defeat of the Liberals at Saltillo, as reported.

The same special says that smuggling is carried on to an enormous extent on the borders of the State of New York, and measures have been adopted to put a stop to it.

Suffocated to Death—Entertainment to French Naval Officers—Academy Burned—Murderer Arrested.

NEW YORK, October 26.—Leoneobet, a French banker of New Orleans, was found dead in his bed at the Hotel Fijux, yesterday morning, having been suffocated by the gas which was flowing from the burners of the room.

A New Haven dispatch says the officers of the French frigate "Leethis" were handsomely entertained by the city authorities yesterday.

The Ballston Spa Academy was burned a day or two since. Loss, nine thousand dollars; insured for seven thousand.

A Troy dispatch says: Coon, who murdered Mrs. Lake, has been arrested.

Meeting of Clergymen.

NEW YORK, October 26.—Last evening a Convention of Clergymen connected with the different churches of Brooklyn, was held in the Church of the Messiah, Adelphia street, for the purpose of considering the best means of bringing the Word of God to the knowledge of the masses of the people. The Rev. Dr. Hodge, of the Baptist church, presided. Several addresses were delivered. It was mentioned by one of the speakers that out of the three hundred thousand inhabitants who composed the population of Brooklyn, not more than one hundred thousand were brought within the influence of the gospel.

Trotting Matches.

NEW YORK, October 26.—In the trot on Union Course yesterday between Lady Thorn and Lady Emma, for $2,000, Lady Thorn won. The race was mile heats, best three in five to wagons. The quickest time was 2:27½.

The stallion, Geo. Wilkes, lost a match to beat 2:25 to wagon, in three trials. He made two trials, going in 2:26 and 2:28½.

Serious Illness of Count Bismarck.

NEW YORK, October 26.—The Herald's Berlin correspondent of the 11th, says: Bismarck's illness is of a very dangerous character, and advantage was taken of the circumstance by Saxony in endeavoring to prevail upon the King of Prussia to grant terms which had been rejected through the interposition of the inflexible Minister.

Frost in Tennessee—Damage to Crops.

NEW YORK, October 26.—A Memphis special to the World, yesterday, says there had been a heavy white frost throughout that whole region. The damage could not then be estimated, but it was very great.

The Case of Lynch, the Fenian.

NEW YORK, October 26.—The Herald's Toronto special says: In the case of Lynch, the convicted Fenian, the Judge said he should have time to appeal to a higher court.

Every lady knows the slightest irregularity of nature is likely to bring on Headache, Giddiness, Low Spirits, Fainting, Hysterics, &c.; then the bloom of health fades the appetite fails, and other symptoms more distressing commence, as Weakness, Spinal Complaint, the Whites, Prolapsus, &c., &c. A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY will be found in DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS. The experience of 30 years has proved they have no equal for removing obstructions and irregularities, no matter from what cause they arise. They are safe and sure in every case. Upwards of 50,000 boxes are sold annually, and no complaint of their efficacy is ever heard, for they accomplish what they are represented to do. Sold in boxes containing sixty pills. Price one dollar.

DR. HARVEY'S GOLDEN PILLS is a remedy four degrees stronger than the above, and intended for special cases of long standing. Price five dollars per box.

If you cannot purchase the Pills at your Druggist, they will be sent by mail, post paid, secure from observation, on receipt of the money, by Dr. JAMES BRYAN, Consulting Physician, No. 819 Broadway, New York.

An entrance has been run in the hill about 300 feet, track finished to river, together with the necessary fixtures for mining and delivering coal afloat. FROM WASHINGTON.

Presidential Appointments—Pardon of Ex-Secretary Trenholm, of the Rebel Confederacy—Indian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, October 26.—The President to-day appointed Leroy Tuttle, late Assistant Cashier in the office of the Treasurer, Assistant Treasurer of the United States, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Standish Barry.

The President has pardoned George A. Trenholm, ex-rebel Secretary of the Treasury, on the recommendation of Major Generals Howard, Sickles and Dix, and others.

The Superintendent of Indian Affairs, of Colorado Territory, has forwarded to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, a letter of Gen. Carson, commanding Fort Garland, Colorado Territory, in relation to the difficulties with the Indians in Southern Colorado. Gen. Carson says that a war is impending with the Ute Indians, who have recently driven off a lot of stock from Huerfano, after killing one man and taking prisoners an American woman and four children.

Gen. Carson suggests that the settlers take prompt measures for their common defence, and states that the war, if commenced, will be one of no trifling character. He says also that the Muaches are going west, and will, beyond a doubt, involve the Tabanaches in the war.

It is reported that the Kiowas are committing outrages in Texas.

With reference to the difficulties with the Utes, Hon. J. F. Claves, the delegate from New Mexico, writing from Santa Fe, under date of October 9th, states that they have have arisen from the mismanagement of a military officer. It appears that the Utes at Maxwell's Ranche had become incensed on account of the death of one of their number by a Mexican sheep herder. Maxwell becoming alarmed for the safety of his family sent word of the state of affairs to Fort Union, and one or two companies were sent to his relief. One of the officers, it appears, becoming intoxicated, drew his pistol on Kah Ne Atche, one of the principal chiefs of the Ute band, hence of the present trouble with these Indians. The original difficulty in regard to the killing of one of their number having been satisfactorily adjusted.

W. F. N. Arny, Secretary of the territory of New Mexico, writes, under date of October 9th, that twelve Utes had been killed, and that the feeling among the Indians was very bitter, but that efforts were being made to arrest the war which was impending.

Commander Cooper, of the United States steamer Winooski, reports to the Navy Department, under date of Key West, October 15, his arrival at that point a day or two previous. The Winooski would sail the next day for the Bahama Banks, to render what assistance was possible to the American vessels on shore at on the Mantilla Reef, there being no English wreckers to assist them. The Tahoma arrived at Key West on the 14th, and brought information of the terrific hurricane.

The President to-day appointed the following named Postmasters: James Johnson, Springfield, Ohio; P. B. Bacon, Columbia, California; George H. Hall, St. Joseph, Missouri; E. A. Jones, Richmond, Indiana.

NEW YORK POLITICS.

Ben Wood not a Candidate for Congressional Honors—John Morrissey Receives the Tammany Nomination—Arrested for Committing Naturalization Frauds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The following are among the latest developments in the city regarding the nominations for Congress:

The news which has reverted to Mr. Ben Wood's hands, says that he will not be a candidate for Congress.

John Morrissey has received the Tammany nomination in the Fifth district. It is asserted that he will positively run the race. He is opposed by Nelson Taylor, Democrat.

It is understood that Horace Greely will keep the field.

Tammany and Mozart have endorsed the nomination of Fernando Wood, but insists that he is running independently. To his constituents he says:

I desire the election as a popular rebuke to those who, after the malicious falsehood that during the war I was a rebel sympathizer and disunionist, and also to be placed in an official position, where, unrestrained by partisan obligations, I may follow the dictates of my own judgment for the public good.

Two persons have been arrested for frauds in naturalization processes. Last night Judge Daly of the Court of Common Pleas, who has not done much of the naturalization work, took Judge Cardoza's place for three hours. One of the runners whose name is not reported, but came before the Judge several times with squads of men whom he was prepared to swear through. He was finally arrested by order of the court. Some of his answers had not been satisfactory, or his general conduct was such as to convince Judge Daly that his couching was fraud. The man procured bail. Complaint is made that some of these numerous runners have sworn through as many as a hundred men during a day. To-day being the last day in which the papers can be issued the courts are sitting till midnight for the purpose. About fifteen thousand persons have thus far taken out papers. The frauds are alleged to have been made for the benefit of both political parties.

New York Chamber of Commerce to Aid the Quebec Sufferers—Excitement Regarding the Death Sentence of Fenian Colonel Lynch, in Canada—Threatened Retaliation if the Sentence be Carried Out.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The Chamber of Commerce will meet next week to inaugurate a movement to collect subscriptions for the relief of the sufferers by the Quebec fire.

The Evening Express says: This morning the ordinary interest in the proceedings of the Fenian trials in Canada, was increased by the news, that one of the alleged officers of General O'Neill's brigade, Colonel Lynch, was sentenced to be hung in December next, for an assumed participation in the invasion of the frontier. The report soon became the principal topic of conversation in the city, and all classes seemed to condemn the severity of the sentence as unnecessary and imprudent. The course of the Canadians during the late war, also called forth very unfavorable criticism in connection with the sentence of Col. Lynch.

Owing to the news the headquarters of Col. Roberts presented an unusually animated scene this afternoon. Two of the leading Generals were present in the war department of the building, and soon after their arrival they were besieged by Fenians who anxiously inquired what would be done to prevent the execution of the death penalty or secure retribution for the action of the Canadian Court. In answer to the parties, one of the Generals replied that if Lynch was hung he would engage to capture and execute twelve Canadians or avenge the deed. Should the other prisoners share the same fate, he said, their deaths would be avenged in the same way. Another Fenian General, referring to the sentence, said he had paroled forty Canadians whom he had captured, and provided them with a safe escort beyond the Fenian lines. If they hung Lynch, he remarked, it would only have the effect of expediting another invasion of Canada. It is believed that President Roberts will take some action on the subject.

Wendell Phillips Makes a Speech Bitterly Attacking the President, Grant Cabinet Officers, Greely and Others.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Wendell Phillips spoke last night at the Cooper Institute to a limited audience. His remarks were largely the same as uttered in his Boston speech. He made very bitter attacks upon the President, Gen. Grant, the Cabinet officers, Senator Wilson, Horace Greeley and Henry Ward Beecher. He urged that the President should be immediately deposed and his office sequestrated pending impeachment.

A Congressional Candidate Who will not Withdraw.

NEWARK, N. J., October 26.—Hon. A. J. Rogers, the regular Democratic Congressional candidate for the Fourth district, publicly contradicts the report of his resignation, and positively declines, under any circumstances, to withdraw from the canvass.

There are rumors to the effect that Hon. John Hayler, the Bolters candidate, will not accept his nomination.

From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, October 26.—William B. Reed, counsel for Jeff. Davis, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Ould, wife of the Ex-Rebel Commissioner of Exchange, arrived this afternoon from Richmond. Judge Ould intended to visit Davis on this occasion, but was prevented by business. Mrs. Ould comes on a visit to Mrs. Davis. Mr. Reed has been in consultation with Mr. Davis. He leaves here to-morrow.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY, October 26, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 147¼; 1881's, 113¾; 5-20's, old, 114⅛; do new, 110⅝; 10-40s, 99⅞; 7-30s, 1st series, 106⅝; second and third, 105⅝. Michigan Southern R. R., 92⅜; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 92¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 109⅞; Erie R. R., 82⅝; Union Telegraph Company, 52⅝; Chicago & Rock Island, 109⅝; Chicago & North Western, 57⅜; do preferred, 80⅞.

The New York market betrays weakness affecting even Governments to a small extent. The money articles of the various papers complain of overtrading and speculation, and advise the banks to draw in their loans, and check the spirit before it gets beyond due control, and brings disaster. The advice has been heeded to some extent. The rates for money advance slightly, and stocks feel the pressure at once. We have nothing new to report in our local stock and money market. There is more commercial paper offering than during the previous week, and a corresponding advance in rates, though strictly first-class paper moves easily at 8@9 per cent. City and County bonds without change here. We note a decline in the Philadelphia sales of Pittsburgh Fives (buyer 5) at 74½; County Fives at 76.

Dealings in Bank shares very much restricted. The few lots offering are readily picked up at fair prices, and of certain banks at what would be thought extravagant in other cities. We may report as follows: First National Bank, 170 bid; Merchants and Manufacturers 65 bid; Peoples National 111 bid; Exchange National 65½ bid; Citizens National 63 bid. Of the above mentioned, there is little or none to be found for sale. Bank of Commerce 107 bid; Tradesmens National 106 bid, 110 asked. Fourth National, 98 bid, 100 asked. No sales of Gas or Insurance stocks reached us during the week. The former are in demand, but not to be had—the latter less popular than usual, though the past month has not been a hard one for them.

Oils, particularly heavy. The demand for Columbia has fallen off materially during the week. Stock offered at 16½, without finding buyers. Marine looks a shade better 2¾ bid, 3 asked. Triumph offered at 1@1,05.

—The failure of Messrs. Allen, Frink & Weston, at Cohoes, New York, is rumored to be "but the beginning of a series." The liabilities are given at $500,000; assets $375,000. Among the creditors are the firm of John L. Thompson & Sons, very heavy, probably near $100,000; the Manufacturers' Bank of Troy, Thomas Symonds, President, $50,000; Hugh Rankin, Troy, $36,000; Gould Rockwell, $18,000. In addition to this it is understood that one of the heaviest of the wool firms of Troy, being involved some $60,000, will eventually go by the board. The assignments reach up to $216,000, which have been divided among the above named houses, in addition to which another mortgage has since been given for $75,000 to a well-known Troy firm. It is stated that the firm employed in its four woolen factories seven hundred hands, and in its axe factory three hundred, to whom six weeks wages were and are still due, although the responsibility of paying this claim, which amounts to $33,000, has been assumed by the firm of J. L. Thompson & Sons, of Troy. The delinquent firm were said to be the heaviest manufacturers of knit woollen goods in the United States, and their axe factory, carried on by W. J. Ten Eyck & Co., the second largest in Cohoes.

—While the profits of business are complained of as small, they are not universally so, as the occasional announcements of dividends show. The well known Amoskeag Manufacturing Company recently made a report, by which we learn that the capital was three millions dollars, and the corporation had a surplus of nearly two millions more. It manufactured 3,700,000 yards of various descriptions of cloth last year, and its profits were nearly 20 per cent on its capital, 18 per cent of which was divided among its stockholders. The Manchester Print Works has also become one of great magnitude. Its capital is $1,800,000, and it has a surplus of half a millions or more. The profits of last year were about 17 per cent and the dividend for the first six months was 12 per cent, and the last half year 6 per cent. Nearly 20,000,000 yards of cloth were manufactured, of which nearly 15,000,000 were delaines, and the remainder print cloths and woolen goods. Of hosiery there was also manufactured 72,000 dozen pairs. The fixed capital of the company invested in real estate and machinery, is $1,000,000, and the working capital and surplus is $1,450,000.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, Oct. 26, 1866.

There is no abatement in the demand for good grades of Pig irons, and especially is this the case in regard to eastern brands, of which the market is, and has been for some time past, almost entirely bare. It is claimed, and we have no doubt it is true, that the great majority of the eastern furnaces are sold ahead, and besides, they do not care to enter into new contracts at present rates, preferring rather to hold back in anticipating of realizing better prices. There is also a continued good demand for Western Irons, both mill and foundry, and all that offers is taken readily at full rates. Indeed, the demand for metal of all kinds is active, considerably in excess of the supply, and prices are gradually but steadily tending upward. Blooms are firm, but less active than metal, though the stock is pretty well reduced, and prices are well sustained. Manufactured Iron and Nails are very firm, and an advance on the former seems inevitable.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, October 26, 1866.

CRUDE—There is really nothing that is new to be said about the Crude Petroleum market. The demand continues very much restricted, for present as well as for future delivery, and prices are nominally unchanged—12 to 12½, bbls returned, and 17 to 17½, bbls included—sale of 174 bbls (40 to 41 gravity) at 17½. There is but very little offering, yet, as an offset against this, there is but very little wanted, and, at best, prices are barely maintained. At Oil City, according to late telegrams, the market is dull and nominal at $3,40 to $3,50.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was very quiet and dull to-day, and prices are again a fraction lower. Yesterday, there were several sales effected at 37½, delivered in Philadelphia, while to-day, 37 was the best offer that could be obtained, and was in some circles regarded as an outside figure. We quote nominally at 30 to 31, free on board cars here and 36½ to 37 delivered in Philadelphia, though, it is but proper to remark, there are as yet, but few sellers at the above quotations. Free oil is dull, and prices are entirely nominal.

—Since the above was put in type, we have the following sales reported: 500 bbls for November, buyer's option, at 31, free on board cars here; and 500 for same month, seller's option, at 31—market closing weak in Philadelphia.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

Jas. Wilkins	213	W. Mackeown	65
H. Young	42	Fisher & Bro.	233
S. B. Floyd	20	D. Bly	90

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, October 26.—The still further decline in cotton reported in Liverpool yesterday had but little effect upon this market, for the dry goods trade has been so quiet that it could not well be more so, and there is no demand to cause prices to be changed. The wool market is still anything but hopeful, and some distrust and uneasiness is beginning to be apparent in the market for goods of a woolen manufacture. Many holders are pressing goods and prices are consequently entirely nominal. Jobber's prices, Brown Sheetings—Salmon Falls, A, 23c; Atlantic, N. 18; Bedford 15½. Bleached Shirtings—Lonsdale, 23½; Harris', No. 1, 30; Ho, e, 28. Prints—Cocheco, 21; Pacific, 20; Sherman, 17; Empire, 13. Ticks—Pearl River, 57½; Easton, A, 23; do. B, 21. Stripes—Whitterton, A A, 35; do. C, 22½.

Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Flour moderately active, and prices steady. Wheat advanced 1c, closing firm, at $2,20@2,20½ for No. 1, and $1,92½@1,93 for No. 2. Corn active, and advanced 2c; sales at 78c for No. 1, and 76c for No. 2. Oats steady, at 38½@39½c. Provisions active. Old Mess Pork, $31,00@31,50; new do, $27,50@28,00.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, October 26, 1866.

The produce markets continue moderately active, in the aggregate, though, as we have repeatedly stated, the demand is entirely local, and, consequently, we have but few round lot operations to report. Flour is a shade firmer, in consequence of a still further advance in Chicago, and the tendency is upward. In other articles, there are no new characteristics worthy of special notice.

GRAIN—Wheat is in light demand but very firm. Sale of 200 bush No. 1 Spring at $2,60; and 1 car choice Amber, on private terms—supposed to be $3. Oats in good supply but steady; sale of 1 car prime Ohio, on track, at 50½; also, small sales at 53 to 55. Rye is in light supply and higher; prime No. 1 is quoted at $1,20. Sale of 3 cars Ear Corn, on track, at 90, and 100 bush Shelled at $1. Sale of 1 car No. 2 Barley at $1,15—prime No. 1 is firm at $1,20.

FLOUR—Is more active and firm, with an advancing tendency, though, as yet, prices are but very little higher. Sale of 50 barrels "Union Star" at $12,75; 100 "Clark & Alden" at $12,50; 100 "Wisconsin State" at $12 to $12,25; 100 "Waupacca" at $12,25; 100 "Jenkins Eureka" at $13,50 to $13,75; 100 "Columbus Mills" at $12,50, and 50 barrels low grade Spring Wheat at $12. Rye and Buckwheat Flour remain substantially as last quoted.

PROVISIONS—There is no improvement to note in the demand for Bacon, and prices are nominally unchanged—17 for Shoulders; 18 for Ribbed Sides, and 25 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is quiet at 17½ to 18. Mess Pork is quoted at $34.

BUTTER—The receipts continue fair, and while the market is pretty well glutted with common packed, prime Roll is in moderate demand with regular sales at 30 to 33—the outside figure for choice in small packages.

APPLES—Demand less active and market a little dull, but prices as yet, are not quotably lower, ranging from $2½ to $3½ per bbl, for common to choice.

SEEDS—Flaxseed continues scarce and sells readily at $3. Timothy is dull and nominal at $3. But little inquiry for Cloverseed.

CHEESE—Is dull and in good supply but unchanged—17 for Western Reserve; 18 for Hamburg; and 20 to 22 for Goshen.

POTATOES—Peach Blows dull; an occasional small sale at $2,50 per bbl. Jersey Sweets are selling all the way from $4 to $4,50, as to quality.

EGGS—Coming in pretty freely, though fresh packed still command 30 cts.

CRANBERRIES—Sales at 15 per for common and $20 for cultivated.

HAY—Is in fair demand and steady, with regular sales at $20 to $25, as to quality.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Financial Matters.

NEW YORK, October 26.—Money rather more active at 5 per cent. Sterling quiet, 109@109¼. Gold a shade firmer, opening at 148, advancing to 148¼ and closing at 147¼. Government stocks without material change.

The Post's money article says: The languid depression of yesterday has been followed by a feverish speculative reaction, which extends to most of the speculative securities, the lead being taken by Erie and Northwestern among the railroad shares, and by Cumberland and Quicksilver among the miscellaneous stock. The Loan market opened strong and active, the improvement being sustained till the close of business. After the regular board the quotations were: N. Y. C., 120½; Erie, 84; Hudson, 126½; Reading, 116; M. S., 92¾; I. C., 123¾; Pittsburgh, 92¼; N. W., 57; N. W. pref., 80½; Toledo, 129; R. I., 109⅝; Ft. W., 109¾; O. & M. Cert., 33½; Cumberland, 60⅝. Gold closed at 147⅝, and at two o'clock P. M. sold at 148¼. Foreign Exchange firm but inactive. Bills at 60 days on London are quoted at 108⅝@109 for commercial; 109@109⅜ for bankers, do at short sight, 109⅞@110¼.

The Commercial's money article says: Railway speculation, though very much confined to specialities, is yet more confident, and prices are generally higher. At the regular Board New York Central was firm and rose 1¼. Erie showed symptoms of a speculative movement and advanced 1⅝ on the latest Board transactions; North Western advanced 2, selling for 57½@57⅝; Cleveland and Toledo, and Toledo and Wabash, were active and higher. Governments are steady at about yesterday's quotations. Five-Twenties of 1865, new, are in demand and firm. Gold opened at 148, but declined steadily to 147¼. The Bulls appear to be forcing up the price with a view to unloading before the gold comes out of the Treasury, after the first of November. Loans are made at ½@¼ per cent. per day. Foreign Exchange is firmer for to-morrow's steamer. The Government is understood to be a buyer to the extent of about one million dollars on account of remittances to Messrs. Barings, London, for the payment of Diplomatic and other expenses in Europe.

LATEST.

The Gold market was lower towards the close of the day, and fell off to 147¼ cash. Gold has been lending from 3-16 per cent. to flat. Foreign Exchange is rather firmer, with more inquiry. Prime Bankers' bills are quoted at 109⅝@109⅞. Government securities were firm this afternoon on the gold bonds, while the Seven-Thirty rates were higher and in better demand. The following were the closing prices: Registered, 1881, 113@113⅛; coupons, 1881, 113⅞@114; Five-Twenties, registered, '62, 106@106½; Five-Twenties, coupons, 1862, 111⅝@111¾; Five-Twenties, coupons, 1864, 109⅝@109¾; Five-Twenties, coupons, 110⅜@111.

At the last open board the railway market was generally steady though not quite up to the highest point of the day. The Miscellaneous list was firm on Cumberland and Mariposa, common and preferred, and the closing rates were the highest. The following were the closing prices at 4:20 P. M.: Ohio certificates 33@33½; Cumberland, 60⅝@61; Quicksilver, 55⅝@55¾; W. U. T., 57⅛@57¼; N. Y. C., 119⅞@119⅛; Erie, 84⅝@84¾; Hudson, 127; Reading, 116@116⅛; M. S., 92⅜@92½; Illinois Central, 125@126; Pittsburgh, 92@92⅛; R. I. & Pacific, 109½@109⅝; North Western, 56¾@56⅞; F. W., 109⅝@109¾.

New York Produce Market.

NEW YORK, October 26.—Cotton firm, with more doing; 38@39c for Middling Uplands. Flour opened a shade firmer, but closed quiet and steady at yesterday's prices; $9,60@11,75 for extra State; $11,50@12,85 for extra round hoop Ohio, and $12,90@14,75 for trade brands. Whiskey quiet, with small sales in bond at 41c. Receipts of Wheat, 15,700 bus.; market 1@2c better and more doing; sales 94,000 bus.; $2,35@2,40 for No. 2, $2,40@2,42 for mixed spring, and $3,25 for new white Michigan. Rye quiet and steady. RIVER NEWS.

There has been but little change in the stage of water since our last report, and to all intents and purposes, navigation at this point is completely suspended. About twenty-three inches is all the water that can be found at Glass House, and there are several boats at that point unable to proceed any further. The weather yesterday was cloudy and raw, and a cold drizzling rain fell nearly all day.

The Delaware, from Parkersburg, and the Robt. Moore, from Portsmouth, arrived and departed. The Moore was at Glass House from Thursday afternoon until Friday morning. The R. C. Gray, Sherman and Quickstep, are at the same point.

The Camelia is laid up at Wheeling, and the Wamanita is at the "Sisters."

The Columbia was loading at Louisville on Wednesday for Pittsburgh. The Kenton and Bertha have arrived at St. Louis. The former boat reshipped some three hundred tons of Uppers Mississippi freight on the towboat Little Giant.

The Cincinnati Gazette, of Thursday, says: The Spray, Capt. Geo. Smith, James A. Dunlevy, clerk, from Pittsburgh, had 200 tuns freight for this place, and will re-ship today eighteen tuns for Louisville on the mail line.

The Atlanta, a plain business boat arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday, on her way to Columbus, Ga. She was built at Pittsburgh for the Chattahoochie river trade, and is under the command of Capt. Wm. Stapler.

Captain Richardson, formerly of the steamer Empire City, for some time past engaged in boating on the Arkansas river, recently returned home to Pittsburg, and has, we understand, bought a one-fourth interest in the steamer Argonaut No. 2, and takes charge of her office when she again comes out. She is at present awaiting water to proceed to Pittsburgh.

The Cairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, under date of Tuesday, says: One of the most terrific storms that have been witnessed for some time broke out upon us in all its fury, at the Big Eddy, and at times, for over an hour, with wind and rain, it appeared almost impossible for the Kenton to live, but she rode the waves and faced the wind, and came out safe and sound.
